OVERFLOW MEETING IN HIGHLAND CHURCH

Greatest Church Service In History of City—Bishop
Rogers Speaks

What proved to be the greatest religious service ever held in the annals of New Castle was that held Sunday night in the Cathedral in celebration of the 1900th anniversary of Pentecost, the birthday of the church and bestowal of the Holy Spirit.

The devout Christian attitude of the people of this vicinity was definitely manifested, when, before 7 o'clock the first floor of the vast Cathedral auditorium was filled; before 7:30 the balcony seats were all taken with the throngs still crowding through the several doorways. At a few minutes before eight o'clock every seat and all standing room was filled and Rev. P. C. Pearson, rector of Trinity church and president of the Ministerial association, stepped upon the stage and announced that owing to the vastness of the crowd there would be an overflow meeting

PA NEW OBSERVES

Pa New on behalf of the 58-000 residents of the New Castle city community is pleased to extend a welcome to the host of the G. A. R., and affiliated organizations assembling here for the state encampments.

Frogs and tadpoles have found the beautiful artificial lake at the Jordan State Game farm a nice place in which to live. When they discovered the lake, they told all their friends, aunts, grandmothers, and grandchildren about it, and all of them immigrated there. Soon they will out-rival the pheasants in number and they seem to be no trouble at all to raise.

One large king frog sits on the island and tells the other frogs when to croak and jump. Certainly are cute!

New Castle has never witnessed such a turnout as that the union service for the churches of the city last night at the Cathedral. It certainly was an inspiration to all church workers in the city, and one that should give added interest to church services here.

The Jordan State Game Farm, near Harlandsburg, will probably be visited by a host of the visitors in New Castle

MORE AUTOS ARE NEEDED

There has not been the response necessary on the part of Automobile owners, who are willing to assist in transporting the city's guests. It is necessary that there be automobiles at The Castleton all the time and those who can drive the services of their cars and drivers are asked to get in touch with the chairman of the transportation committee at The Castleton at once. They will be furnished car stickers and given necessary instruc-

Pump

Carl A. Palm, aged 37, of Philadelphia is dead, and Claire L.
Milliken, aged 27, of this city, is in a dying condition in the New Castle hospital, as a result of an automobile accident at Five Points on the New Castle-Youngstown road about 7 o'clock Saturday evening.

Palm and Milliken were on their way to Youngstown in a car owned by Palm and being driven by him. As they neared a gas pump which stands just east of the cross roads at Five Points, and on the south end of the road, the car driven by Palm suddenly shot across the road, struck a telephone pole, then dashed on about 75 feet where it crashed head-on into a large tree.

Car is Crushed

Force of the impact was so great that the entire car was crushed into an almost unrecognizable mass. The radiator and front of the car was forced back over the seat and the top and sides torn off.

Witnesses to this crash hastened to the wreck from which they extricated Palm and Milliken. Both were unconscious and bleeding badly from numerous wounds. State highway patrolmen Fulton and Rosenbury arrived soon after the accident and summoned an ambulance. The men were taken to the New Castle hospital.
Palm died just as he reached the hos-

Sons Of Veteran Leader Brings Noonday Message Today
At The Castleton

Department Commander J. Howard Seipp, of Philadelphia, who by virtue of his position will officiate as presiding officer over the sessions of this organization this week, was the guest speaker of the New Castle Rotary club today at The Castleton.

During his opening remarks Commander Seipp reviewed the early part of the civil war, tracing its beginning with the firing of Fort Sumpter. He praised those of the Grand Army of the Republic and declared that to them we owe considerable.

Aims and purposes of the Sons of Veterans were outlined as he closed.
He told of the service the Sons were giving and urged every man eligible to join the order to become affiliated with it at once, "if only to show the world that you approve of the principles of the Sons of Veterans and of the G. A. R."

Mr. Seipp was introduced by Ralph
M. Campbell, convention committee chairman of the Oscar L. Jackson Camp No. 249, host to the veterans during the period of their encampment.

Camp Milton Walton, the home of the Pennsylvania Brigade, Sons of Veterans Reserve for the week of their encampment here, was formally opened Sunday afternoon, June 8 when a formal guard mount, flag raising and camp opening were combined. About 2000 spectators from New Castle and the county were present as officers of the Sons of Veterans received the camp and started it functioning.

While but a few of the units were present for the opening, those that were present went through their drills preparatory to the opening.
Colonel Edwin John Prittie, chief of staff, was present as commandant, with Captain C. Leroy Stout, Brigade Engineer of Reading, Pa., in charge as Master of Ceremonies.

Rentz Presents Camp

The camp was presented to the Sons of Veterans for their use, by the general chairman of the G. A. R. encampment here, Hon. Fred L. Rentz.
"It is an honor for any city to enertain such a worthy group" said Mr. Rentz, "and New Castle prizes this opportunity. When the Union was threatened, when Lincoln needed men, New Castle and Lawrence County responded, and now when New Castle is given the opportunity of entertaining the survivors of the Civil War, their auxiliaries and the Sons of Veterans, once again New Castle is doing its part. As general chairman of the encampment it is my pleasure and privilege to present to the Sons of Veterans this camp site,"

Bratianu Will Fight New King

(International News Service)
BUCHAREST, June 9.—Political opposition to King Carol took definite shape today when former Premier Vintila Bratianu, Liberal leader and arch-enemy of the new monarch, announced he would issue an official protest against the new regime in his newspaper Viitorul tomorrow.

Under the heading of "Long Live King Michael," Bratianu will declare Carol's kingship illegal and void, he closed.

King Carol let it be known that if this happens he will confiscate the newspaper "and take necessary measures against the editors and Liberal leaders."

While Bratianu remains adamant in his opposition to Carol, certain other Liberal leaders have announced their fealty to the new king.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Richards and son Thomas of Neshannock avenue have returned after visiting Mr. and Mrs.
C. E. Curtis of Wheatland.

PREDICTS ROUMANIA
AND HUNGARY UNION

(International News Service)
LONDON, June 9.—The Amalgamation of Hungary and Roumania under King Carol II within a very short time was foreseen here today by Barbu Joneescu, powerful friend of the new monarch and wealthy Roumanian business man who has a residence in London.

"In two or three months, I should n't be surprised to hear of definite movements aimed at the amalgamation of Hungary and Roumania under Carol," Joneescu said.

"Such a fusion would be quite possible because both countries require a stable government and amalgamation under a single crown would serve a useful and practical purpose."

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Whatever small hopes the Republicans have had of making permanent their 1928 penetration of the old "Solid South" appeared shattered today on the heels of the smashing defeat sustained by Senator Furnifold M. Simmons for renomination in the North Carolina primary Saturday.

It was Simmons who led the bolt from the National Democratic ticket two years ago, and who, along with Bishop James Cannon, Jr., threw the flaming torch of anti-Smith insurgency throughout the whole South.

Losses by 75,000

Now he has paid for his insurgency with his political life. He loses the Senate seat which he has occupied for thirty years, and with it goes the leadership of the State which has not been disputed with him for more than a quarter of a century. The Democrats of North Carolina rose up on Saturday and dethroned the veteran on the single issue of his desertion of the National ticket in 1928.

Private advisers reaching Washington this morning indicated that Josiah W. Bailey, a Raleigh lawyer, has defeated Simmons by approximately 75,000 votes. The magnitude of Simmons' defeat amazed even those who had felt that he might lose. And, incidentally, it sent an apprehensive shiver down the backs of other Democrats who were lukewarm or actively hostile to the Democratic candidate of two years ago.

DYNAMITE CHARGE
CAUSES TRAGEDY

(International News Service)
DETROIT, June 9.—Four men are known to have been killed and 15 others were buried when an explosion occurred in an intake tunnel under Detroit river here today.

The force of the explosion caused a landslide that shut off one end of the tunnel and trapped 15 men under the river bottom.

Three other men were taken from the blast-torn tunnel alive as ambulances and police patrols rushed to the scene.

The explosion is said to have occurred when two charges of dynamite which had previously failed to explode were set off by the sharp contact with an automatic drill.

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 9.—Sixty-six young ladies, graduates of the Pen-sylvania College for Women, were launched into the great big world today at commencement exercises at the college where they received their Bachelor degrees.

Marian Elizabeth Haines, of Bradford, Pa., was among the graduates.
Miss Haines was the youngest girl ever graduated from the institution and was among the five with highest marks, being given her degree "with great praise."

Miss Haines, who studied music during her four year course, hasn't quite made up her mind as to just what she's going to do, but she is sure she won't be married.

Dr. Miles H. Krumbine, of Cleveland, was the commencement speaker. He commended what he termed the "fatalism of the multitude" as a philosophy that, unless checked, leads to the stagnation of whole peoples and declared that "one life counts—the basic philosophy that an individual can still exert force for the social good of the masses."

Ten seniors received certificates in music, spoken English and social service at the commencement exercises.

Great Acclaim

Entire Nation Rejoices As King Carol II Of Rou-

NEWEST MONARCH GREETED HIS SON

Princess Helen Reported As Refusing Reconciliation With Former Husband

(International News Service)
BUCHAREST, June 9.—King
Carol II of Roumania, Europe's newest monarch whose crown was but a few hours old, today turned his attention from the rejoicing acclaim of his subjects to the problem of repairing the marriage he once wrecked.

The king drove to the residence of Princess Helen, his former wife, after the latter had at first refused to surrender Michael, their 9-year-old, who until yesterday was King Michael of Roumania.

Michael, now established as heir-apparent to the Roumanian throne with the title Grand Voivode of Alba Julia, threw himself into his father's arms.

Tears Play Part

Tears glistened in the king's eyes and Michael was weeping.

Michael told his father that he had been informed that Carol had been on a long voyage and, having seen a motion picture showing the Atlantic ocean with stormy seas he had become frightened for his father's safety.

The meeting was the first since Carol had come by airplane from Paris to glide out of the skies and execute his most spectacular coup d'etat, which regained him the throne he had voluntarily renounced.

Princess Helen, considered by many the most beautiful princess in Europe, had intimated earlier that she would not consider a reconciliation with her royal ex-husband. The entire nation has expressed hope that their divorce be annulled and that Helen become queen consort.

Consents to Meeting

Helen apparently has ideas of her own about returning to the "bad boy of the Balkans" who left her to live in exile with the fascinating, titian-haired beauty, Magda Lupescu.

Earlier reports said that Helen refused to let King Carol see Michael and that she intended to live sepa-

to visit friends among the Columbia firemen. They were Andrew Allwein, 60, William Miller, 35, Lloyd Umberger, 38, and James Reilly, 60. The fifth victim was Ray Hawkins, 26, a bridge worker of Michigan who died trying to rescue the other men.

The visiting firemen hired the canoe and with Harry Royce and John Shuman, 18 year old canoeists, started out for a river trip. The overloaded craft upset when it was approximately 100 yards off shore.

Hawkins and Charles Reynolds, bridge workers, saw the tragedy and pushed off in a row boat to save the men. Reaching the capsized canoe, Reynolds plunged in and was drowned

FIVE ARE KILLED IN INDIANA CRASH

Truck Load Of Persons Struck By Train Near Valparaiso, Ind.

(International News Service)
VALPARAISO, Ind., June 9.—An inquest was ordered today into the deaths of five persons who were killed last night when a truck in which they were riding was demolished by a Chesapeake and Ohio train near here.

Only one passenger in the truck escaped death. He was Melvin Parks, injured severely and taken to a hospital in Hammond. A father and his two children were among those killed.
The dead include Clyde Henley, 36;
Clyde Henley, Jr.; Marjorie Henley, 5; John Parks, 6; son of the injured man and Virgil Planalp, 26.

The party was driving to Lake Eliza for a fishing party when the crash occurred near Beatrice, nine miles southwest of here.

Wreckage of the truck was carried for several hundred feet along the right of way. Deputy Coroner C. M.
Davis of Valparaiso declared after an investigation that faulty brakes on the truck may have caused the crash.

(Special To The News)
NEW YORK, June 9.—Well, Roumania ought to feel mighty proud today. Carol will be a great help to 'em in propagating the country. His stable of wives and lady friends will move in later.

After seeing a thing like this

There's a host of lads on the streets today, feeble and aged and bent, and their step is slow and their should-is spent, but though they are feeble, their spirit is strong, the spirit that

Low Price Levels In Market Today

Bears Concentrate Selling Wave On United States Steel—Stocks Take Drop

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service
Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Though showing considerable resistance to the severe pounding it received at the hands of the bears today, the stock market was forced into lower price levels by a combination of short selling and liquidation of weakly-held speculative stocks.

Turnover in the first three hours indicated a 4,000,000-share session.

The bears once again concentrated heavy selling on United States steel, forcing that stock through to another low for the year at 163½. Meeting support at that price, big steel rallied to 165½, but was quickly pounded back to 164. Radio was battered back to 43½ and Radio Keith to 34, down 2½, as disquieting rumors about the present and near-future business of the talking picture houses circulated in Wall Street.

The utilities, many of which are believed to be somewhat over-priced, were also under pressure as the day advanced. American Power and Light declined about 3 points and United Corp., the low-priced favorite, sold off 1½ to 39½. The New York City Gas and Electric stock group held steadily in the face of fairly heavy selling. Warner Brothers was the weak spot in the amusement group and sold off nearly 4 points at 55½.

Prices swung unsteadily back and forth as the session advanced. The oils were under fire in the fourth period. Standard of California at 66 showing a loss of 2 1-4 from the opening, and Atlantic Refining down a point.

The coppers and rails made a good impression by their firm and steady market position, the reason for which is undoubtedly the fact that they have been sold to a stand-still in recent weeks. The commodity markets were inclined to slightly lower levels, cotton losing 75 cents a bale and silk off 5 points; but grain was firm, with wheat up about a cent and a half. Call money was in good supply at 3 per cent.

during the week. The state farm at the present time is most interesting. Hundreds of young pheasants are being hatched and raised. They will be liberated during the summer, to restock Western Pennsylvania woods with game birds.

In walking up or down Washington street this morning Pa. News noticed many old comrades greet each other, some of them as effusively as if they had not met since the Civil War.

Badges, war medals, uniforms and trick caps for the women seem to be the order of decorations in the city this week.

A group of encampment women were having a marvelous time this morning with an impromptu parade. One of the members was the possessor of a cornet, with which she was leading the procession. They were having their parade along Washington street pavements.

All members of the G. A. R. who are visiting at the encampment, will be invited to be special guests of the Perry S. Phone Girls Are Busy Giving Time

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 9.—A quarter of a million Pacific Coast people daily ask the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company for the correct time, it was revealed today in statistics of the company.

It was estimated that most of the calls were made by children seeking to attain school "on time."

The total time calls daily by cities are as follows: Los Angeles, 100,428; San Francisco, 34,242; Seattle, 27,722; Portland, 21,272; Oakland and East Bay region, 18,415; Spokane, 7,331; Pasadena, 7,201; Sacramento, 7,440.

Thus, every clock tick through out the 24 hours on the average, means three telephone calls for the time of day. But during the hour of rising in the morning, from 7 to 8 o'clock, when people check slow watches for work or school time, the calls pour into the Coast exchanges 14 a second.

School vacation brings great relief to "time" operators of the telephone company, according to Lyle Brown, division manager of the company.

NEARLY 4000 AT CHURCH SERVICE SUNDAY NIGHT

held in the Highland United Presbyterian church, where all late comers were directed. Within a few minutes the auditorium of the Highland church was also filled to capacity.

BISHOP W. L. ROGERS

The vast audience more than fulfilled the most optimistic expectations of the committee of the Ministerial association who labored hard to make this 1900th anniversary celebration one that will go down in local history. Rev. P. C. Pearson was president of the committee, with Rev. D. D. Sleppy, Rev. F. E. Stough, Dr. C. G. Parr, Dr. G. S. Bennett and Dr. A. J. Randless as his efficient assistants.

Organ Prelude

At 7:30 the magnificent Greer Memorial organ pealed forth with Mrs. Paul Browne Patterson seated at the console. Her program was rendered in her own inimitable manner and was listened to with rapt attention by the vast audience, the strains being heard in every corner.

Shortly after eight o'clock the curtains arose to show the chorus choir of some 300 voices seated on the stage, with Paul Browne Patterson directing, and the ministers of the various churches of the city filed in and took their places at the front of the stage.

With the audience standing and accompanied by the organ that multitude sang "The Church's One Foundation" with all the spirit of devotion that was manifested throughout the service.

Rev. Pearson then welcomed the audience, including those from the city, those from out of town and the veterans of the G. A. R. and asked that organization who Sunday opened their encampment in this city. He expressed his gratitude for the beautiful and reverent enthusiasm shown in this celebration; he thanked the merchants of the city for using the display cards in their windows; the management and staff of the New Castle News for their hearty cooperation; the organization who Sunday opened their encampment in this city.

continued. "In religion we have the oldest thing there is in existence; in the Bible we have the oldest book that was ever written and has existed down through the ages, which is the only book to survive through this length of time." He continued with showing what other old things we have in the Christian religion, such as the old pictures of Christ, which show the angelic face with the halo; the old rituals and the old creeds, which were the beginning and formed the foundation on which all Christian religion has been based.

"Something new in religion, yes," he went on. "We have the new things that come out of the advancing age, and they also are good and each year brings its new groups, new sects, the broadcasting of the messages far and near by radio and the new social teachings that are being promulgated are all outcomes of the new age and from each of these, intermingled with the old background, much good will come."

"Something borrowed, yes. We borrow many things from other religions each denomination borrows from each other some particular part of their service or ritual like, from the heathen and pagan even, we borrow the things we love and that fit in with the everyday teaching and preachings of Jesus Christ." He explained in a very definite way the many different mannerisms and various other things, he as an Episcopalian, had borrowed from other denominations and sects.

As a conclusion to his sermon he referred to the "something blue" as the blue of the heavens and not of the earth; the blue of the skies and not of the human; it is God coming through. "Religion," he concluded "is an uplifting process and Christ and his church belong to the uplifted life."

KING CAROL OF ROUMANIA GIVEN GREAT ACCLAIM

Carol, taking sole charge of rearing Michael.

However, she finally consented to the meeting of the two for an hour.

After the first few moments of excited greetings, Carol left for Cotretin palace, taking Michael with him.

Is Wildly Cheered.

Carol appeared before the national assembly Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and took his oath to preserve the integrity of the nation and respect the constitution. He was wildly cheered after a brief address in which he told the assembly:

"Only the greatness of Roumania and the welfare of my people stand before me."

The newly established king kissed the crucifix.

From the assembly, he drove to the tomb of the unknown soldier where he placed a wreath.

An hour later, before the steps of the royal palace, all the troops of the Bucharest garrison gave him the oath of allegiance.

Reconciliation Seen.

Prince Nicholas, his brother, who was instrumental in bringing Carol back at the strategic and psychological moment, was the first to congratulate Carol.

Professor Nicholas Jorga, formerly Carol's tutor, announced before the national assembly that King Carol and Helen shortly will be formally reconciled and their divorce annulled.

Carol has asked Julia Maniu, who resigned as premier Saturday, to make smoother the establishment of Roumania's returned prodigal on the throne and Prof. Jorga to form a coalition cabinet.

The action of the national assembly in annulling the voluntary renunciation of right of succession to the throne made by Carol in 1926 created a peculiar position for Prince Michael. The annulment takes from Michael the right to the title of king and establishes that Carol, legally, was de jure king from the time of the death of his father, the late King Ferdinand.

Reconciliation Fails.

BUCHAREST, June 9.—King Carol II, of Roumania, who wiped out five years of history in his dramatic seizure of the throne, failed today in his attempts to stage a reconciliation with his wife, the former Princess Helen of Greece.

In spite of Carol's efforts to rekindle the spark of romance and over the protestations of Roumanian leaders, Princess Helen today flatly rejected all attempts at conciliation.

As a result of her adamant attitude, King Carol has been forced to withdraw his petition for annulment of their divorce, granted to Princess Helen after Carol renounced his kingly rights and fled to France with the titian-haired beauty, Mme. Magda Lupescu.

With Helen's definite decision to remain separated from her former husband, thus renouncing her chance to become Queen of Roumania, her son Michael became an innocent pawn in the political chess-board of the country.

Coincident with her refusal of reconciliation, Helen demanded Michael be returned into her custody, in order that she might guide her son's education and up-bringing personally. Immediately after his proclamation as king, Carol took Michael from his mother's arms, installed him in the royal nursery of Cotretin Palace and expressed his intention of keeping the nine-year old boy in his care.

Congratulates Son.

BUCHAREST, June 9.—King Carol II today received a telegram of congratulations from his mother, the dowager Queen Marie, who is at Oberammergau attending a performance of the Passion Play.

"I am one with my son in safeguarding the interests of our country," the wire said.

Also, the message expressed the hope that Carol would be able to fulfill his historic past.

Carol immediately wired his hearty thanks to Queen Marie and ordered preparations for a reception with special honors to greet Marie when she returns from Germany.

This interchange of telegrams definitely set at rest rumors of a rift between the new king and his mother that would result in Marie's exile.

STAR LORE NEWTON'S LAW OF GRAVITATION

By Arthur Dev. Carpenter
The statement of the Newtonian law of gravitation, that "all bodies attract all other bodies in proportion to their mass, and inversely as the square of the distance" simply means this: If the attraction of the sun for the earth at a distance of 93 million miles, represents one, a body three times farther away from the sun, would be attracted by the sun but one ninth as much; or as Neptune, 30 times as remote, would be attracted 30 times 30 less than the earth or 900 times less, for the same amount of matter. But why two physical bodies tend to gravitate toward each other, remains a mystery.

ONE IS KILLED, ANOTHER DYING; CAR HITS TREE

Milliken, whose face was crushed, and whose other injuries were of a serious nature, is still lying today. Very little hope is held out for his recovery.

When Milliken was examined by physicians after being admitted to the hospital, it was not believed that he could live over night, but he proved to have a very strong constitution and on Sunday regained consciousness enough to recognize those about him.

Probing Crash
From investigations made by State Police and Coroner J. P. Caldwell it appears that the road was clear in front of the Palm machine. There was a car some distance behind the Palm car. Occupants of this car stated that they saw the Palm car suddenly swerve to the left hand side of the road, strike the telephone pole and crash into the tree. They did not know of any reason for the accident. People who keep the gas station, and who live across the road, saw the Palm car strike the pole. The left fender was torn off, after which the car made a zig-zag course to where it struck the tree.

No reason for the car having left the road has been found. It may have been caused by a defect in the steering apparatus of the car, or the driver may have for some reason temporarily lost control. Those who saw the wreck say it was one of the worst that they had ever seen.

Carl A. Palm, the dead man, lived on North Third street, Philadelphia. He was employed by the state compensation rating and inspection bureau. He had been visiting New Castle frequently for the past five years. He became acquainted with Milliken, who was a taxi driver, through employing him to take him places on his inspection trips.

This time when he came Palm was in his own car, and meeting Milliken told him he would give him a ride in his new car. Milliken, who was off duty, agreed, and they started for Youngstown.

Palm, who is said to be a graduate of an Eastern college is survived by a wife and son.

The remains of Palm were shipped to Philadelphia this morning for interment.

Sued For Throwing Book At Wife

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Ill., June 9.—A book is something to read; not something to throw.

This thought is probably occupying the mind of Chauncey B. Blair, capitalist and local social leader, who is being sued for divorce on a charge of cruelty. Blair is supposed to have heaved a book at his wife.

Deaths of the Day

Chauncey Sampson Funeral.
Funeral services for Chauncey E. Sampson were held Saturday afternoon from the family home in Petersburg, Ohio, with Rev. Weed of New Waterford and Rev. Gerner of Petersburg officiating.

Pallbearers were George McClure, Ira Swisher, Harry Ewing, Roy Baxter, Henry Klaffer and Sidney Fox. Interment was made in the Petersburg cemetery.

Mrs. Jennie McClerg.
Mrs. Jennie McClerg, MacClerg, aged 51, of 430 Court street, died Sunday at 11:45 a. m. at the family home, following a short illness. She was born in Butler county, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. McClerg in 1879 and has lived in New Castle for several years.

She was a member of the Baptist church.

Surviving are four sons, Thomas, Harold, Jack and Albert and two daughters, Leila and Ruth, all of this city and one sister Mrs. Clara Plants of Chicago.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. D. S. T. from the family residence with interment in the Graceland cemetery.

Harvey Peters.
Harvey Peters, of Volant, R. D. 2, died Sunday at 6:30 a. m. in the Mercer hospital, Mercer, following an illness of eight days from pleural-pneumonia. He was the son of John and Katharine Peters and born in Pennsylvania, March 20, 1885.

Mr. Peters was a farmer and had lived in this part of the state all his life. He was a member of the Methodist church.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sarah Black Peters, four sons, Harvey Austin, Donald Clifford, Dorothy Lavina and Thomas Huston Peters; two sisters, Mrs. Bertha Heasley of Grove City, Mrs. Eva Winger of Grove City and a brother, William Clifford Peters, Shenkleyville.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. from the family residence with Rev. H. H. Thompson officiating. Interment will be made in the Volant cemetery.

Mrs. Retta McKee.
Mrs. Retta McKee, widow of George McKee, of 436 Croton avenue, died Saturday at 2 p. m. in the Jameson Memorial hospital, following a week's illness of heart trouble. She was the daughter of G. W. and Charlotte Miller and had lived her entire life in this city.

She was a member of the First Christian church and the A. C. T. class. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Ada Love and Laura Miller, of this city and a nephew, George S. Miller. A brother, Hiram G. Miller, preceded her in death some time ago.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday from the family residence, 436 Croton avenue at 2 p. m. D. S. T. with Rev. G. S. Bennett officiating. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Naomi Jane Turk.
Naomi Jane Turk, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Turk, died at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Artz, 827 East Washington street Sunday. Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery this morning at 10 a. m.

Mrs. Aurea Reis Armstrong.
Mrs. Aurea Reis Armstrong, aged 52, wife of Seibert Armstrong of Centerville, died near Wesley, Saturday evening about 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Armstrong was riding along in their automobile with her husband near Barleyville, Pa., when suddenly her head dropped and she was found to be unconscious. The car hurried to the nearest house and called a doctor, but it was found she had died instantly, supposedly from a heart condition.

She was a daughter of Charles H. and Sarah R. Davis and was born in Albany, Oregon, February 2, 1878.

She is survived by her husband, her father, Charles H. Reis, three brothers, Louis, Charles C. of Duluth, Minn., and Gail G. Reis of this city; two sisters, Mrs. Elsie Liscomb of Youngstown and Beryl Reis of New Castle.

Funeral services will be held from Rices, Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. D. S. T. with interment in the Greenwood cemetery.

THE DEATHLESS ARMY

THERE is more than friendliness, more than admiration, more than pleasure in New Castle's welcome to the men of the Grand Army of the Republic as they gather here for the last formal encampment of the state organization. There is a reverence that is borne of awe, that rises from an ever increasing appreciation of what these men did nearly seventy years ago.

Upon the stooped shoulders you will see on the streets this week rests a mantle of glory that time can never remove. The steps may be faltering now but the things they did, go thundering down the years gathering new life and new color.

"Those brave men, living and dead" of whom Lincoln spoke in his immortal Gettysburg address are very near to New Castle this week. Here the few survivors are gathered for their last encampment, the last formal assembly perhaps before they gather for the Great Assembly on other and more beautiful parade grounds.

In the struggle between the North and South, New Castle and Lawrence County played their parts. The memory of that struggle brings to mind the names of Cooper, Gardner, Du Shane, Leasure, Hazen, Needler and a host of other men of this county who were in the thick of it. To have the high privilege of the last encampment is one which any city might envy and one of which New Castle is justifiably proud.

With the Grand Army men are the various auxiliaries, and the Sons of Veterans encampment. The warm class of fellowship is extended to them also for while it was not theirs to serve as did the G. A. R. men, yet they have done their tasks well in aiding the G. A. R.

It is no formal welcome that New Castle extends to this distinguished group of visitors this week. It is a welcome that comes from the heart, that is genuine and sincere for no higher compliment could be paid a city than being chosen as host for this Deathless Army.

UNION CHURCH SERVICE INSPIRES

Under the direction of the New Castle Ministerial Association the service last night marking the local observance of the 190th anniversary of Pentecost, was one that will ever be memorable in the religious history of New Castle.

The Cathedral, seating as it does over 3200 persons, was packed to the roof, there were several hundred persons on the stage, and all in all, upwards of 4000 persons were assembled at this purely religious service. In addition an overflow meeting was necessary, after the Cathedral was filled, and the Highland United Presbyterian church had hundreds more in attendance.

It was a wonderful demonstration of the life of the church organizations in New Castle, and the service was an inspiration that must give an even greater impetus to church attendance and interest.

Never has there been such a demonstration in the city of New Castle of the unity and harmony that marks the Christian demonstration in their common purpose and ideals.

While the event last night celebrated especially one that is notable in the history of the Christian religion, the thought no doubt occurred to many as it did to us, why not have great union meetings of the congregations of the city frequently—say once a year?

VACATION TIME

Something more than a change of location is necessary if vacationists who are able to take only two weeks from their work each year are to get the best results from the time. There should be as nearly as possible a complete reversal of the activities of the individual during his employment at home.

The surgeon general of the United States Public Health Service says that indoor workers should make as nearly as possible a complete change to outdoors, and that workers in the open will find their greatest recreation in reversing the conditions with which they are familiar in their employment.

The fact is that very few persons are overworked physically, but what they need is a change of environment that will give them the mental relaxation that is necessary if the keenness for their tasks is to be restored in the brief time usually available for vacations. There should be a minimum of suggestion of the job which has been temporarily abandoned.

Vacation should be a definite change from vacation, and unless this can be secured to the maximum degree much of the value of the period of relaxation will be sacrificed. The person who can manage to adapt himself promptly to conditions that will produce the desired results may count himself fortunate.

It should not be necessary to suggest to any one the wisdom of carefulness in the matter of eating and drinking when on a vacation. That is taken for granted. Mere physical rejuvenation will not be possible at its best unless the mental attitude of the vacationist towards life in general has been quickened by contact with places and individuals.

COLLEGE DRINKING

Reports of alcoholic orgies as a part of the higher education seem to have been exaggerated. A symposium of 257 college presidents shows that the heads of the institutions, at least, are optimistic about the situation. Most of them say there is less drinking than there was before prohibition. Forty-four report no drinking whatever among their students and 47 say drinking is now, and has long been, almost unknown. Two rather typical replies are these:

The president of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute says "There is nothing like half as much drinking done by the students of this college as in former years."

The dean of the Carnegie Institute of Technology says "Less than five per cent of the students have any interest in liquor."

Some will question these figures. But Prexy usually knows pretty well what's going on in the college.

To Survive, Advertise.
Fear Strange Thing.

The world needs little and big things.

It needs little brooks to create loveliness; great Niagara to create power. It needs little fortunes for millions of happy and useful families; big fortunes, with power, to do really big things.

John D. Rockefeller Jr. Friday offered to New York City lands for parks and buildings to the value of $12,000,000.

One enormous tract of 56 acres in Manhattan could not be duplicated. Seven million dollars worth of land, and five million dollars worth of buildings, including the magnificent new building for the Gothic art treasures of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, make a considerable gift. You must have many millions to do that.

A short talk with John Hartford, president of the Atlantic and Pacific chain stores; his brother, George Hartford, and A. G. Hoffman, his brother-in-law, makes you realize that the modern chain store business is really BIG business.

It reveals the fact, although the revelation was not planned, that advertising is the best remedy for failing prices.

Before John Hartford's desk was a map showing the drop in prices of commodities that looked like a wall of the Grand Canyon, but along the top, unbroken, ran a red line, showing well maintained prices and sales on WELL ADVERTISED BRANDS.

The only exception among the advertised brands was one particular corporation food. Perhaps it doesn't advertise enough.

Deep truth is in the advice: "If your business isn't worth advertising, advertise it for sale."

Some in California have objected to the entrance of Atlantic and Pacific stores. The reply of the company is:

"We spend 50 million dollars every year buying California products."

That one "chain" does an annual business of one thousand million dollars, pays railroads and other public carriers 45 million dollars a year for transporting goods. The steel industry of the United States pays the railroads only 40 millions.

The company's profit on its turnover, according to Mr. Hartford, is two per cent, 20 millions on a billion.

J. Ogden Armour, when his income was $25,000,000 a year, said: "I feel like a gypsy when I think about Rockefeller and Carnegie."

Fear works strangely. Amy Johnson, English girl, 23, flew all alone in her little Gypsy Moth plane from England to Australia, 10,000 miles, without fear or hesitation.

Hurricanes, lightning, fogs, wide oceans, deserts, jungles, all meant nothing to that girl.

But when a radio hookup was all arranged, and the world was listening, little Miss Johnson ran away. She said:

"I'm afraid."

Los Angeles population, according to the census, is 1,231,730, increase of 655,057, or 113.59 per cent in 10 years. Los Angeles county had 2,199,557. Five years ago, Los Angeles was No. 10 among American cities. It has passed Pittsburgh, Baltimore, Boston, St. Louis and Cleveland and now stands No. 5.

Most of the religious question creep into politics, despite many wise efforts to keep it out.

It crept in with a vengeance during the last presidential election. People talked wet and dry, but to an unpleasant extent they voted "Protestant and Catholic."

Bishop Cannon of the Methodist Church South, tells the senate lobby committee:

"I won't answer your questions." Senator Walsh calls it contempt.

THOSE WHO ARE STRIVING—

For self-mastery have a life time's job on their hands.

For success will never find it after they lose their self-respect.

For excellence will always be in a race with themselves.

For happiness will never find it a by-product.

For popularity will do well to count the cost.

For supremacy can only maintain it with a weak character.

For knowledge must learn to be content with solitude.

UPPER CASE

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—Last week a dog was run over and killed in Hollywood. His sorrowful master extended ed to his faithful pet a final tribute of love. A casket was purchased for $40. A tier was erected on the front porch, banked with flowers, and for a day and a night the dog lay in state, while neighbors and friends of the master solemnly viewed the remains.

This dog was taken in a special funeral car to an exclusive pet cemetery. There, watched by a group of the master's friends, the casket was lowered into its last resting place, the grave closed and covered with flowers. An inscribed bronze plaque marks the grave.

LOWER CASE

CLEVELAND—Death of a newborn baby girl, whose body was found on a log floating in the Cuyahoga river, was of natural causes, Coroner A. J. Pearce announced, following an examination of the body. The body bore no marks of violence, and is believed to have been sent adrift by parents too poor to bury the child.

Precedent seems to rule in courts of law and senate investigations. If some day later in Kentucky made a statement at some time a hundred years ago it is used as an argument for some big business man to answer questions in courts and senate investigations. No man can handle political money very much and not get in bad. He either gets in bad with those who think they ought to have a slice of it or the members of some other political party, or some who have no political party or religion either for that matter just get into the fuss to attract notoriety to themselves. People Of Country Deplore Cost Of Senate Campaigns

Primaries In Pennsylvania And Illinois Create Impression Which Leads To Strong Demand For Better Conditions

"The expenditures of such excessive sums in behalf of a candidate, either with or without his knowledge or consent, being contrary to sound public policy harmful to the honor and dignity of the senate and dangerous to the perpetuity of a free government, such excessive expenditures are hereby severely condemned and disapproved." This quotation from the resolution passed by the United States senate in 1922 is recalled to mind and again considered by the press of the country, as revelations of the huge sums just spent in the Pennsylvania primaries and recently in Illinois are made before the senate investigating committee.

"What of the senate? Does it hold today with the sentiment expressed in the Newberry verdict and exemplified by action in the exclusion of Vane and Smith?" asks the ST. LOUIS POST DISPATCH, and then asserts: "The senate must so hold. Any other construction was inconceivable. If the attempted purchase of a senatorship were an assault upon the honor of the senate and a menace to the perpetuity of a free government in 1922 such attempted purchase is precisely as offensive and the same sinister threat in 1936," contends this paper. And the SPRINGFIELD, MASS., UNION remarks: "Obviously this product of the direct primaries should give pause to those who are interested in preserving the fundamental principles upon which the democracy is founded. However well qualified a man may be to serve his state in the senate, his chances for election are small without the expenditure of huge sums of money for the 'education' of the electorate. It is an excellent commentary on an evil that appears to be growing more and more sinister."

This mention of educating the electorate is based on the statement by Senator Grundy, defeated candidate to succeed himself, before the senate committee, that "whatever the cost of educating the people is right." And this, the ASHEVILLE TIMES says: "Well, at the prevailing rate of increase for the cost of educating the people, in less than another ten years a million dollars will be considered by the majority as a reasonable sum for a senatorial campaign."

Poking a little fun at Senator Grundy, the BURLINGTON GAZETTE says: "Judging from this rate of election, Mr. Grundy's educational campaign was a sorry failure," and the COLUMBIA RECORD, estimating Pennsylvania's population and the campaign expenditures there, remarks: "About $1 a vote." The SCRANTON TIMES notes that, even at the present high figures, there has been an improvement, saying: "If we compare the estimated outlay this year with what was expended four years ago in the Vane-Pepper-Pinchot senatorial contest, the 1936 campaign was only about half as costly." As to Mr. Grundy's ideas, the SAGINAW DAILY NEWS has figures: "It can be believed that his ideas as to no limit are precisely the ideas of 'the boys' whose activities are limited when the money does not flow freely enough."

"But is anything approaching such cost necessary?" many papers are asking and are declaring it is not, as the LOS ANGELES EVENING EXPRESS puts it: "The system of elections which makes it possible legally to spend a quarter million dollars to secure a nomination is faulty and a menace to popular government." The BUFFALO EVENING NEWS states: "There really is little need for such expenditures from the viewpoint of the citizen. A candidate's statements always are widely printed as news, at as great length as any ordinary persons will read. The literature published and distributed outside newspapers, which forms one of the chief excuses for campaign funds, usually reflects the candidate's own anxiety and his estimate of himself, rather than any public wish to read more about him."

Noting that letters to the voters, radio talks, advertising, band concerts and all the rest of the "ballyhoo," while legitimate, are expensive, the LYNCHBURG DAILY ADVANCE thinks such huge expenditures, even though great, constitute a problem "which should give grave concern to thinking citizens."

Two Women Are Found Drowned In Quarry Pool

Search Started For Two Male Companions, Drowned When Auto Plunges Off Road

DISCOVERED BY TRUCK DRIVER

(International News Service) Souderton, Pa., June 9.—The bodies of two fashionably dressed women were found floating on the surface of an abandoned quarry pool near here today.

City and county authorities at once began grappling for the bodies of two male companions, believed to be caught in undergrowth on the bed of the pool.

All four were thought to have been occupants of an automobile which was reported to have crashed thru a board fence around the pool during the night.

One of the bodies recovered was that of a woman about 20 years old and the other woman was about 40.

Coroner George Huff, of Montgomery county, has assumed charge of the investigation.

The straw hats of two men were found floating on the surface which caused Coroner Huff to believe that the bodies of the men are still in the pool.

The bodies of the women were discovered by Lester Alderfer, 24, of Souderton, who drove a truckload of rubbish to the pool. He also discovered that a concrete post which supports the fence around the pool had been snapped off as if struck by a machine.

An examination by Chief of Police George Kulp revealed an automobile had plunged off the highway at the sharp curve around the pool and apparently plunged into the water. The surface of the water was covered with oil tending to confirm his theory.

The bodies were taken from the water by Chief Kulp and a group of rescue workers and taken to a Souderton mortuary.

The water of the pool is said to range from 50 to 100 feet deep.

Delegates Will Attend Conference Of Girl Reserves

Representatives To Kiski Conference Chosen During Week-End At Camp East Brook

At the spring conference of the Senior Girl Reserve club held at Camp East Brook, over the week-end, it was decided to send four delegates to the Girl Reserve conference at Kiskimetas Springs school, at Saltsburg, August 19-20.

Miss Jane Hawkins, president of the senior club, Miss Vivian Wetton, vice president, Miss Katherine Boston, program director and Miss Ruth Breneman, treasurer, will attend the conference. If the senior club is allowed to send two more delegates, Misses Gretchen Smith and Marabeth May will go also.

Miss Lois Martin, next year's chief advisor of the Senior Girl Reserve club, and Miss Eva Coulter, chief advisor of the Benjamin Franklin Girl Reserve club, will also go to the Kiski conference.

Skeleton Solves 13-Year-Old Tragedy

(International News Service) EUREKA, Cal., June 9.—A hunting tragedy of 13 years ago in the mountains, near here, was thought solved today with the finding of the skeleton believed to be that of a man by the name of Eberhardt, who disappeared while on a hunting trip with a number of friends. The skeleton was found propped against a tree.

A rusty rifle was standing nearby. On the ground were a number of rusty coins and a watch.

The name of Eberhardt was faintly discernible on the watch.

Eberhardt was from Southern Oregon and local authorities are trying to get in touch with his relatives.

Plan Factory On Montmartre Hill

(International News Service) PARIS, June 9.—The Free Commune of Montmartre is in trouble again. Preparations are being made to build a modern factory on one of the few unspoiled sites of the old hill, the bowling alley of the avenue Junot. All the inhabitants have drawn up and signed a petition against this modern violation and it is hoped that a dispensary for children will be decided upon instead of the ugly factory.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles had just come up to the fourth floor when the whistle blew.

"I hate to walk down," he said. "Take hold of this rope," Pat said and I'll let you down."

Pat let him down half way, and then let go of the rope. Mike landed in a mortar bed, not much hurt but angry.

And why did you let go of the rope," he demanded.

"I thought it was going to break," said Pat, "and I had presence of mind enough to let it go."

A deputy sheriff was sent to take an inventory of the property in a house. When he did not return for three hours, the sheriff went after him and found him asleep on a lounge in the living room of the house. He had made a brave effort with his inventory, however; he had written down: "Living room—1 table, 1 sideboard, 1 full bottle whiskey."

Then the "full" had been crossed out and "half full" substituted. Then this was overlined, and "empty" was in its place. At the bottom of the page, in wobbly writing, was written, "1 revolving carpet."

"Can you tell me," asked the judge, addressing Enrico Ufuzzi, under examination as to the qualifications for citizenship, "the difference between the powers and prerogatives of the King of England and those of the President of the United States?"

"Yezzir," spoke up Ufuzzi promptly. "King he got a steady job."

Vacations Necessary For Mother

Tell dad he should not read this, then he will. Forward to a fishing trip or a quiet rest among the mountains many a well worn father now is looking. His faithful wife is eager to see him hurry off to enjoy his well-earned and much needed rest. She may not think about herself at all. The most tragic fact may be that he will not.

Not from selfishness; but from habit may he overlook her need of a vacation. Day by day he has labored to earn for his family a comfortable living and perhaps enough for their older day and for his wife and children if it is "knocked off" or incapacitated.

In some families a rest for the single bread winner is a real necessity for the family's living. But the size of the pay check almost never needs to deny the mother some vacation, if it only is a day or a week-end.

Fathers that realize the strain upon the average mother's nerves who spends day after day caring for your children, particularly those who conscientiously always stick close to their job—too close perhaps—learn to enjoy hurrying home on evenings to read or walk or play with the toddler, or to stay with him or her in the crib while the mother goes out for the evening or goes shopping on a Saturday afternoon. He can learn to find it no hardship to play nurse and mother during a week-end when the weary wife can really enjoy the time away from home. There are some who, having the time, can discover pleasure in raising housewife for a longer period. Such a vacation may renew the mother's life. Incidentally, it will give her a warm appreciation of her husband and him an enlarged evaluation of his wife.

To those who are financially able comes the opportunity to provide a competent care-taker of the children while the father and mother have a few days off to themselves. When the mother must drag her little children along with her for a week-end or several days away from home, even for a summer, she may get no vacation whatsoever. Indeed her cares are likely to increase, since little children on a trip or anywhere away from home, call for more attention and are less manageable. Such experiences as a rule, are hard on the children too.

The earning power of many a father would be tremendously enhanced, his family would be happier and he would spend less for doctor bills if he would provide ample means for a short or long vacation, that would really be one, for the mother of his young children.

I hope a lot of fathers have read this. Perhaps the kind who have, already had made plans in the vacation budget for the mother.

Police Raid Two Disorderly Houses

Proprietors And Eleven Visitors Placed Under Arrest For Gambling Saturday Night

Two houses, where gambling was alleged, were raided by local police Saturday evening, thirteen arrests in all being made.

Receiving a complaint against a place maintained by Charles Hudson at 1017 Moravia street, the officers went to the place and peering through the transom saw gambling going on. When they attempted to enter, those inside turned out the lights and tried to escape, but were rounded up and brought to the police station. In addition to Hudson, six visitors were taken into custody. At a hearing Sunday morning, Hudson was assessed a fine of $25 and costs and the visitors $5 and costs, which they paid.

The officers report finding 24 bottles of home brew and a half pint of moonshine liquor, the latter of which was concealed under a bed.

Investigating the coffee house operated by John Callas at 28 West Long avenue, where gambling was reported in progress, four officers found a gambling game going on. The officers were able to enter the place and see the men gambling, before they were discovered. Someone on the outside sounded a cry of warning and fled, before the officers could catch him. They succeeded in getting 25 cents of the table stakes and a deck of cards, before the men could snatch them from the table.

Callas placed a forfeit of $25 for his appearance at a hearing Sunday morning, while each of the visitors posted a forfeit of $10, which was unclaimed.

Penn State Grads Awarded Honors At Commencement

Kenneth Hood, Of New Castle, Among First Honor Graduates; Is Also Orator

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., June 9.—Alumni and the 641 members of the graduating class, at the Pennsylvania State College had their big reunion and farewell programs today, at the height of the 70th annual June commencement. It was Alumni Day for the grads and Class Day for the seniors who will receive their diplomas tomorrow from President Ralph D. Hetzel.

The valedictory for the seniors was delivered by James T. Wolfe of Seewickley, the salutatorian was Robert P. Campbell, Pennsylvania Furnace, and the pipe oration was given by James H. Coogan, of Shenandoah.

At the planting of the class ivy the orator was Kenneth Hood, of New Castle. F. Bruce Baldwin of Philadelphia, the class president, conducted the ceremony.

President Hetzel today announced scholastic honor winners in the graduating class. First honors were awarded to the ten percent rating highest in scholarship for four years. Kenneth Hood of New Castle was among the first honor graduates, while Charles F. Christopher was among those to whom second honors were awarded.

Family Don't Like Name, Will Go Back To Original

BUTLER, Pa., June 9.—Charles C. Rape, head of a family in Zelienople which has borne that name for a number of years, was authorized by Judge James O. Campbell to resume the original name of "Reeb". The petitioner told Judge Campbell that he did not know how the name came to be changed, but that "Reeb" was his baptismal name and that it was found on all the legal papers in which his father's name appeared. "We went back to our proper name in practice about three years ago," Mr. Reeb told Judge Campbell. "I have six sons and they wanted to go back to their own name. We are not changing our name. We are simply going back to our correct one."

The family, which originally came from Germany, is well known in the Zelienople district, nine divisions of the family being listed in the telephone directory as "Rape".

Law Increases Powers Of U. S. Commissioners

Bill Supported By Congressman Swick In House Sent To Senate For Final Action

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.—The scope and powers of the 42 United States commissioners in Pennsylvania would be enlarged under the Christopherson law enforcement bill which has just passed the House and now awaits Senate action.

Representative J. Howard Swick voted for the bill, which won out by a count of 218 to 117. The bill, which is designed to alleviate congestion in the federal courts, would give the commissioners the right to pass on petty violations of the national prohibition act, and to make recommendations to the court in regard to the disposition of these misdemeanor cases.

Only eight states in the country exceed Pennsylvania in the number of United States commissioners. Montana, North Carolina, New Mexico, New York, Washington, Idaho, Tennessee, and Wyoming in the order named.

Of the 42 commissioners operating in the Keystone State, all but two are now active, the two exceptions being vacancies, according to information submitted to the house by Representative Carl Bachmann of West Virginia in connection with the debate on the Christopherson measure.

Reports Made Of Auto Accidents

Two Small Boys Are Hurt When Struck By Machines Saturday Evening

Reports were made to the police of two accidents Saturday, when children were struck by automobiles, but not seriously hurt.

Merle Mayberry of R. F. D. No. 6, reported that he was driving south on North Liberty street, when he struck a child by the name of Mary Haus, of 404 West Clayton street, who had run out in front of his car from behind a passing machine. He took the little girl to a doctor's office but the doctor was not in and she then removed her to her home. She did not appear to be hurt.

LeRoy Taylor of 308 Fairfield avenue, reported that he was going east on North street, Saturday evening, when a lad jumped off the back of a truck which had just pulled out in front of him from Norris alley, and stepped in front of his car. He took the boy, Lester Stockman, to his home at 25 West North street and called a doctor. He stated that the boy did not seem badly injured.

Two Lawrence County Men Act As Horse Judges

Lawrence county had a rather important place in the judging of the horses in the work horse parade held in Pittsburgh Saturday afternoon. Of the three judges selected to pick the winners in the parade, Lawrence county had one, Samuel W. Crawford, well-known horseman here, while the selection of the grand champion was made by Thomas Cooper of Harlansburg.

Over 700 horses were in line and ranged from the finest saddle horse to the heavy jointed Belgian and Percheron draft horses. The work horse parade is an annual affair in Pittsburgh and this year's is said to have been the best yet held.

Red Cross Board To Meet Tonight

Members of the executive committee of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross will hold their monthly meeting in the Chapter rooms in the Temple Building at 6:30 this evening.

Regular business will be transacted at this meeting and a full attendance of the membership is requested by Chairman Clarence A. Patterson.

Head of the famous Academie Scientifique de Beauté of Paris tells why he advocates twice-a-day use of Palmolive Soap

"These vegetable oils in Palmolive Soap keep the surface colour clear and free from irritation, and they leave the texture of the skin smooth and fresh."

Georges

A glimpse of the typically French interior of Monsieur Gay's salon in Paris. This shows the corner of one of the waiting rooms.

"YOU cannot build a beautiful complexion on the foundation of a pore-clogged skin," says Monsieur Georges Gay, of Paris. "That is a simple truth which so many women forget. When the skin loses its natural freshness and vitality, they fly to the use of cosmetics. The result is then disastrous. 'Cleanse the pores first,' I tell my clients. 'Palmolive is the only soap according with my methods, and I always recommend it for home use. It gives a very fine, silky lather which gets right down into every tiny pore and sweeps away the accumulation of dust and rouge and powder which chokes the skin. The massage with Palmolive twice a day has become a regular part of my course.'"

Head of the Academie Scientifique Monsieur Gay is, as you probably know, directing head of the Academie Scientifique de Beauté in Paris.

Never has there been such a widespread professional endorsement of any product. Palmolive is recommended by 19,813 of the world's leading experts.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

A mother writes to ask why it is that people think it is their duty to treat old mothers like plaster saints and sugar angels. She had just returned from a Daughter-Mother bantam-turnout for the speeches made here, wondering if that is the kind of twaddle mothers are supposed to enjoy. Says this mother of sixty, "Even if we are old we are human beings and enjoy being treated as such."

"The thing that made me the maddest," she says, "is that one mother got up and started a tirade against the schools and you'd think by the things she got over, by innuendo, that all our young people are going to the dogs. The teachers in many of our schools are graduates of our state university, and they are fine women."

"She spoke as if the youngsters of today, so called Flappers, all smoke, drink and are hell-bound."

"Then the speaker drew lovely pictures of three saintly characters, manufactured I think, who she called Dorothy, Lillian and Mary. And their reward for their saintly behavior? They became missionaries to China, Africa and what have you."

"A man or woman who smokes is beyond the pale, in her estimation. I happen to know fine young women who smoke and there isn't a thing the matter with their characters, either. They worked hard to get their diplomas, and their education meant a great deal of sacrifice. You can imagine how they felt, sitting there and listening to such talk! Incidentally the speaker's son is a medical student in a nearby university and, according to her, goes about wearing a halo and thanking God, that he is not as other medics."

"Good heavens! I thought such sentiments had been discarded with hoop skirts!"

"Not one word was spoken at that banquet about the training a mother is expected to give before her child reaches school age. A real mother does not leave to the church and school the task which only she can master when the child is very young. Children learn much by example."

"I am over sixty but I can't help feeling that it is wrong to blame teachers for things which are the fault of the mothers. Merely having a child doesn't make a saint of a woman."

(Signed) A California Mother. There's a lot of common sense packed into that mother's head, and I'll bet she has always been a joy, a confidante, and a pal to the young folks. It's too bad there aren't more like her.

Think how much more unhappy they'd be if they had you Beatrice. And after reading you over again, what makes you think you aren't a business woman? And such a business!

Father Of Ellwood Woman Is Dead

BUTLER, Pa., June 9.—Willis W. Blackmore, 74, died unexpectedly early yesterday morning at his home. He was a native of Smith's Ferry, Beaver county, and came to Butler in 1876. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Catherine A. (Heinemann) Blackmore; three sons, Henry H. and Willis G. of Butler and Clarence of Vandergrift; two daughters, Mrs. M. W. Johnson of Erie and Mrs. J. C. McBride of Ellwood City.

Lawrence County Committeeman Votes For General Martin

Backed by the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh organizations, General Edward C. Martin, State Treasurer was re-elected state chairman of the Republican Committee on Saturday, the meeting being held in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia. Up to the hour of opening it was thought that the Republican nominee for governor, Gifford Pinchot would have a chance to put over his candidate for the chairmanship, S. Van Brown of Williamsport. He had asked that the counties supporting him for the nomination support his candidate for the state chairmanship, but they refused to do so. Of the 67 counties, General Martin received the vote of 40, among them Allegheny and Philadelphia, while Brown received but twenty.

Attorney Clyde V. Alley, state committeeman from Lawrence County, voted for General Martin as did the balance of the far western counties.

Gibson Disbarred
In Decree Handed Down By Judges

Action Is Based On Charges Preferred By Committee Of Bar Association

In a decree handed down by Judges R. Lawrence Hildebrand and James A. Chambers this morning, Attorney Clyde Gibson is disbarred from practicing at the Lawrence county bar. The decree was based upon facts presented by the Lawrence county Bar Association, in which it was charged that Gibson had been guilty of embezzling funds from clients.

Attorney Gibson was admitted to practice at the Lawrence county bar in 1906 and practiced until November, 1929, when complaints were made to the court regarding his unethical practices. The court appointed a committee of the Bar Association to conduct an investigation.

The result of this investigation was to find that Gibson had secured money from clients to be loaned on mortgages, but that instead of handing the funds in a proper manner he had converted the money to his own use. The amount ran up into thousands of dollars.

In one instance he had collected $1500 of a forfeited recognizance due the county. He failed to pay this in to the county until steps were taken to force such action.

Gibson left the city soon after his irregularities were discovered, and has not been here since.

The decree of the courts prevents him from ever again practicing at the Lawrence county bar.

Three Pleas Are Entered At Court

Three defendants in cases listed for trial at the present term of court decided not to stand trial and entered pleas before Judge Hildebrand this morning. They were Alfred Wright, charged with passing liquor; Floyd S. Benninger, adultery and Sam Marquis, selling liquor. Sentences will be passed later.

Prominent Dry Leader
Supports D. W. Morrow

Mrs. Lewis S. Thompson, of Red Bank, N. J., one of the most prominent dry leaders in New Jersey, announced her intention of supporting Mr. Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow's candidacy for the Republican nomination for the U. S. Senate. She will do this despite his advocacy of repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and the return of liquor control to the States.

More Tear Gas Is Found By McCracken

E. C. McCracken, fireman and assistant janitor at the court house, is considerably worried over his recent experiences with tear gas. Recently he found the county poor board's room filled with tear gas when he went to open it. Last Saturday he was confronted with tear gas when he was entering the boiler room. How it got there is a mystery. Later he was burning a mattress that had been taken from the jail, when several cartridges which had been secreted in the mattress exploded.

Maybe Russia could make herself worthy of recognition by burning her victims.

The committee in charge and under whose supervision the school is held includes Mrs. J. A. Wilson, Mrs. G. G. Orr and Mrs. Earl Young.

Rev. S. B. Copeland, pastor of the church announces that all children are eligible to attend this school and provision has been made by the church to take care of the tuition fee for the child, in case the parents are unable to provide same.

Says Bowers Did Not Stop After An Auto Accident

Case Brought By Samuel Crangi
Is Taken Up Before Judge
Chambers

William Bowers, charged with failing to stop to render assistance after an automobile accident, was placed on trial before Judge James A. Chambers at court this morning.

Samuel Crangi, prosecutor in the case, claimed that Bowers had run into his car while passing on the New Castle-Beaver road near Wampum. Crangi's daughters, Rose and Angelina Crangi, were both injured in the accident.

Crangi claims that Bowers failed to stop and render assistance after the accident. Damages for injuries

Eight Jurors Are Excused At Court

Eight jurors were excused by Judge Hildebrand at the opening of court this morning. A number of others asked to be excused, but at double court is being held, the request of others could not be granted. Those excused were as follows: Archie Allmon, first ward; J. L. Freshkorn, Shenango township; William Grim, third ward; Laverne Kocher, fourth ward; Mary McConahy, fourth ward; Richard W. Brown And Hamilton
Charter Dissolved

Judge R. Lawrence Hildebrand handed down a decree this morning dissolving the Brown and Hamilton Company. This firm was engaged in the dry goods business here for many years. Some time ago the business was closed out and the Brown and Hamilton room rented. Application was then made for a dissolution of the corporation. Facts presented showed that all taxes due the state had been paid.

Gangster Warfare In Chicago Breaks Out Anew Today With Man's Death

WOUNDED MAN PROVES STUBBORN

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, June 9.—The warfare that has wracked Chicago's rival gangs for the past week flared out anew today with the slaying of one racketeer and the mysterious shooting of Frank Thompson, once accused as the distributor of the machine guns used in the St. Valentine's Day massacre of seven Moran gangsters.

Aloysius Kearney, reputed racketeer organization, slayer and collector, was shot and killed today. Six bullets were fired into his body from close range and he slumped to the sidewalk and died.

Informer Wounded
Thompson, who was questioned following the St. Valentine's Day massacre, and admitted selling several machine guns to gangsters, was near death at a Rockford, Ill., hospital today where he was taken after he slumped over the steering wheel of his automobile with a bullet near his heart.

While police tried to wring from Thompson the details of how he had been shot, a search was under way for George "Bugs" Moran, gang leader, and five other enemies of the "Scarface" Al Capone forces. Friends of Moran and police alike believe that he and his aides were put on the "spot" and their bodies concealed as a part of the deadly battle for gang control that has taken a toll of at least ten lives in the past week.

Thompson drove up to a filling station six miles south of Rockford, last night and slumped over the wheel of his car, apparently dead. Authorities were summoned and he was taken to a Rockford hospital where it was found that a .38 caliber bullet had pierced his chest and emerged at the spine. He stubbornly refused to tell how he had been shot. Police could not find the weapon that had fired the bullet, although five cartridges were found in his automobile.

FOOTBALL HELPS

Vice Chancellor Graham, Syracuse university, says championship athletic teams are not needed by colleges for the purpose of attracting favorable attention. Syracuse university recently had an educational exposition which drew crowds as great as a football classic. The fact remains that the athletic supremacy is a lure to the eyes of youth making up its mind about college. Colleges which maintain champion teams by "professional" methods, offerings extraordinary inducement to high school graduates, lose more than they gain. It soon becomes known that in this school athletics are not on the level. On the other hand a college which by wise direction turns out from year to year unusually strong teams inevitably gains a great deal of valuable advertising. This is legitimate college promotion, and those in authority are careless to overlook it.

MILK AND MANNA

It is said that the children of Israel, marooned in the wilderness, were fed by manna, or food that dropped from the skies. And now we read that Boston receives a wholesale shipment of milk by airplane. Little by little the modern world sees the miracles of the past put into practice.

FACTS

There is a fascination about facts briefly told. One learns, for example, from the ably edited New York Times, that for poor eyesight Germany ranks first, England second and the United States third. Last year 5,000 Americans registered in Paris as students. The four sailing boats that will contend for the honor of defending America's cup will require ten acres of canvas. The United States uses more electricity than all the rest of the world together. The legitimate production of alcohol in this country now reaches 100,000,000 gallons a year. And did you know that churches in the United States gained only 300,000 members last year, which is 400,000 less than the year before?

YOU'RE NOT CROWDING HIM

Nansen, great Arctic explorer and famous scientist, died recently. When he was but 21 Nansen held an important position in a museum of natural history. He was not only a great explorer and zoologist, but he was a friend of humanity. From his youth onward he labored to get something worth while done in the world. Frequently we hear parents worry because their boys and girls are seemingly overworking in school. They seem to be doing things beyond their years. We fear to put a strain on their mental capacity. Not much danger. Most of the great men of the world were doing a man's work when they were young.

Don't worry about your boy because he seemingly works too hard. The time to be concerned is when you find he isn't doing enough to give his mind a workout.

There is yet time for some scientist to win fame by showing the umpire how to warm up his eye before the game.

Children's Day Program At Highland

Short Pentecostal Program Supplements The Children's Day Service Sunday

The Highland United Presbyterian church school observed Children's Day during the Sabbath school hour Sunday morning.

The impromptu stage was a bower of beauty with its background of orange blossoms and baskets of spring flowers, artistically arranged with birds in cages that harmonized with the color scheme and offered their songs along with those of the children. Mrs. W. J. Offutt, Mrs. Charles Withers, Mrs. Lowry Eckles and Mrs. Lee Allen were the committee on decorations.

The little beginners opened the program with a song by Norma Lee Eskey, greetings by Teddy Fordney and recitations by Tommy Pearce, Marjorie Allen, Arthur Burghwin, Louise Heck, Philip Williams, Betty Brown and Joe Fletcher.

Tenny McFate and Roy Rumbaugh gave a welcome speech and the Japanese children's day was explained by Kathryn Eskey, in costume. George Rhodes gave "The Children's Day Special" and an exercise was presented, "Serving," by Maxine Conway, Eleanor Eckles, Jean Myers, Tommy Batton, Billy McGee, Jean Aken, Dorothy Burton, Betty Reed and Virginia Wilson; an exercise, "Belonging to Jesus," was given by Donald Moore, Dwight Anderson, Bobbie Burkley, William Crozier, Russell Stocker, Bobbie Johns and Tommy Clark. Mrs. Offutt's class sang a song.

The junior department presented a number of exercises by the girls and boys of that department and the intermediate presented an exercise, "Suffer the Little Children," with Charlotte Withers and Marian Burghwin, assisted by the primary children. "How It's Done" was presented by Marjory Blinn and Betty Jane Kison.

At the conclusion of the children's program, a short pentecostal program was given with the various portions of the scripture pertaining to this

Pupils Campaign For Clean Streets

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 9.—Pupils of Public School 174 in Brooklyn recently participated in an interesting demonstration for "Cleaner Streets." They paraded through the streets of the school district bearing posters which contained specific slogans relating to clean streets, such as "Action Plus Brown Equals Cleanliness," "Cover the 'Garbage Can'—Clean Up, Cheer Up, Clear Up," etc. The Fire and Drum Corps of the bureau of sanitation furnished the music for the occasion.

Committee In Charge Of Convention Plans

That the Sixty-Fourth Annual Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of Pennsylvania, and the encampments of the affiliated organizations, the Sons of Union Veterans, Daughters of Union Veterans, Ladies of the G. A. R., Woman's Relief Corps, Auxiliary to the Sons of Union Veterans and Sons of Veterans Reserve may function properly during the coming week, many local people under the leadership of the Hon. Fred L. Rentz have found it necessary to work unflinchingly and unselfishly for many weeks.

The task, a welcome one, has been carried to completion in such a manner that it is hoped that the assembled throngs of the several organizations will return home convinced that every possible effort has been made locally to make the event a memorable one.

The various committees have appreciated the opportunity afforded the city and the results, it is hoped, will prove what was anticipated.

The committees follow:

Past National G. A. R. Commander Visitor In City

Visited In This City On Occasion Of Famous U. V. L. Encampment

Dr. L. F. Arenberg, of Arenberg, Pa., commander of the State Department of the Grand Army of the Republic in 1916 and National Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic in 1924, is one of the more distinguished guests of the city in the present state encampment.

He is still Surgeon General of the few remaining posts of the Union Veteran Legion, the organization to which Civil War veterans of three or more years service belong. He is accompanied by his son J. R. Arenberg, a very active member of the Sons of Union Veterans.

In speaking with a representative of The News, Dr. Arenberg, stated that this is not his first visit in the city, as he was a delegate in attendance at the National Union Veteran Legion Encampment held here a number of years ago and of which the Hon. Fred L. Rentz, general chairman of the present encampment committee, was also in charge as general chairman.

"We had a mighty pleasant time then," said Dr. Arenberg, "and from present indications, there is nothing left undone to make our stay most enjoyable this time."

Relief Corps To Hold A Luncheon

Department Officers Of The Grand Army Of The Republic Will Be Guests

Delegates to the Woman's Relief Corps, the members of the local Woman's Relief Corps and the department officers of the Grand Army of the Republic will enjoy a luncheon at the Legion Home on Tuesday at noon. Indications are that it will prove a most interesting affair.

Chief Marshal Names More Aides

Colonel W. W. Stevenson, chief marshal of the encampment parade today announced additional aides to assist in forming and caring for the big parade, which will be held Wednesday at 3 p. m. Daylight Savings Time.

The additional aides are:—M. J. Howard, Spanish American War Veteran.

S. L. Vogan, Charter members of Oscar L. Jackson Camp No. 249 Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War.

Hon. William D. Walton, Son of Comrade Milton, deceased, in whose honor the Sons of Veterans Reserve Camp is named.

Hugh A. Hannon, former Lieutenant Company K, Fourth Infantry, Sons of Veterans Reserve.

Charles S. McCaskey, Commander of Oscar L. Jackson Camp No. 249 Sons of Union Veterans.

Past Presidents Will Banquet

Past Department Presidents of the Woman's Relief Corps will banquet Wednesday evening in the private dining room of the Elk's Home. It promises to be a most interesting affair and quite a number of the past department presidents will be in attendance.

Parade Moves On Daylight Time

Parade of the Pennsylvania Department G. A. R. Encampment will move promptly at 3 p. m. Daylight Saving Time, Wednesday, June 11. Previous notice to the effect that it would be at 3 p. m. Eastern Standard Time, is to be disregarded.

Colonel W. W. Stevenson, Chief Marshal.

Camp Milton Walton Starts Week's Program

With the expected confusion of the first day out of the road, Camp Milton Walton settled down today to the routine laid out for it by Col. Edwin John Prutty, commanding. The guard was changed at 11:10 a. m., Major E. M. Post taking charge as officer of the day and Lieutenant G. U. Seipp as officer of the guard. Three posts have been laid out and these are being patrolled.

At noon today the following units were in camp: Company A of the Second Infantry, Allentown, Pa.

Company E of the 1st Infantry, Philadelphia. Company E of the 3rd Infantry, Wilkes-Barre. Company A of the 6th Infantry, York. Battery C, Field Artillery, Carlisle. Field Music Detachment, Harrisburg, and Company K, 4th Infantry, New Castle. More units are expected in this afternoon and Tuesday morning.

The evening parade will feature the exercises at retreat this evening. As the units arrive they are being assigned tents and are erecting them on the north end of the camp area.

Gives Rules On Display Of Flag

Many Flags Are Found Improperly Displayed Here By Residents

Recruiting Sergeant Thompson Gives Rules For Correct Usage Of Old Glory

Prompted by the fact that many flags in the city are being improperly displayed by local residents, as a courtesy to the G. A. R. veterans who are holding their annual state encampment here, Sergeant J. W. Thompson in charge of the U. S. Recruiting Office here, gives the following rules for the correct display of our Country's flag on all occasions:

There are two ways only to display the American flag properly.

One is to fly the flag from a staff, freely unfurled with the starry field, or Union as it is called, to the peak.

The other is to hang the flag, either lengthwise or breadthwise, with the Union always uppermost and to the observer's left as he faces the flag.

Attempts to "improve" the appearance of the American flag by other methods of display, such as fastening it into a rosette or using it as a drapery, lack the respect due to Old Glory as the symbol of our country.

To fly the flag from a staff, hoist it briskly to the peak, with the Union uppermost. It should be lowered slowly and ceremoniously, never permitting its folds to touch the ground.

If suspended across a street, the flag should be hung vertically, with the Union uppermost and to the north in an east-and-west street and to the east in a north-and-south street.

When flown at half-staff, the flag should be raised to the peak of the staff and then lowered to half-staff; before lowering for the day, it should be raised again to the peak and then lowered for removal.

At crossed staff with another flag, the American flag should be on the observer's left, the staff in front of the staff of the other flag.

When forming a cluster with other flags, the American flag should be in the center of the group or at the highest point in the group.

In a procession the American flag should be on the marching right of all other flags, or in the forecenter of a line of flags.

Whether indoors or out, the flag should be fastened over doorways or arches, tied in a bow-knot, or otherwise employed in purely decorative manner. For these purposes bunting of the national colors is more appropriate, and since the Union is the flag's honor point, the bunting should be arranged with the blue uppermost.

On a speaker's platform the American flag, if not flown from a staff, should be displayed flat and placed above and to the rear of the speaker's right.

On a staff projecting from a window the flag may be displayed with the staff either horizontal or at an angle, with the Union, except when at half staff, to the outermost point of the staff.

When several flags are flown from staffs the American flag should be flown from the staff on the extreme left of the observer. Old Glory is hoisted first and lowered last.

When flags of two or more nations are displayed they should be flown from separate staffs and all flags should be approximately the same size. International usage forbids the display of the flag of one flag over that of another in time of peace.

At unveiling ceremonies the American flag should form a distinctly feature of the program, but should not be used as a covering for the statue.

The use of the flag for athletic uniforms, handkerchiefs, napkins or other purposes lacking in dignity and respect, while not strictly a violation of law, is offensive to persons of patriotic feeling.

When the flag becomes soiled it may be laundered with propriety. This is best done in one's own home.

There is an old army custom whereby Old Glory, when damaged or frayed, may be withdrawn from service with due reverence. According to this custom the Union is first cut from the flag, then the two pieces of the flag which is no longer a flag are cremated and their ashes strewn over the parade ground.

For further rules governing the display of Old Glory apply to nearest U. S. army recruiting office.

First of the veterans and members of their allied groups descended on the city Sunday afternoon and the registration groups of the several organizations including the G. A. R. and Allied Organizations at The Castleton and Fountain Inn were busy from noon on.

Special Train Arrives

The first big rush occurred at seven o'clock Sunday evening and from then on until midnight as the special train from Philadelphia and others on the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio brought in more than two hundred delegates.

The rush today was even greater and at noon, the registration committee reported approximately five hundred delegates, including approximately one hundred Civil War veterans as having been registered, and assigned to their rooms here.

The guests of the city were met by a fleet of automobiles under the direction of Rex L. Patch, chairman of the Transportation committee and taken to the various headquarters and their rooms. Boy Scouts assisted in caring for the guests of the city in every way possible.

Headquarters of the Grand Army of the Republic opened today in The Castleton, also those of the Woman's Relief Corps and Ladies of the G. A. R., while the headquarters of the Sons of Union Veterans and Auxiliary to the Sons of Union Veterans opened in the Fountain Inn.

Formal Sessions Of State G. A. R. Convention To Open On Tuesday

Sons Of Veterans Ready For State Convention Here

Host Arriving From All Sections Of State For Meetings

PHILADELPHIA MAN STATE COMMANDER

J. EDWARD SEIPP
Department Commander Sons of Veterans

Two hundred or more Sons of Veterans of the Civil War together with their wives, members of the Sons of Veterans Auxiliary, were assembled in New Castle today for the opening of their annual state encampment on Tuesday. Both the Sons and Auxiliary sessions will continue until Thursday.

Hosts of delegates representing widely scattered sections of the state, but the eastern end particularly, continued to arrive this morning. State leaders indicated that additional groups are motoring here and will likely reach the city at an early hour this evening.

Nothing but registration was on the program of the Sons today and the reception for the Sons of Union Veterans at the Elks Home at 3 p. m. marks the only function for the ladies of the auxiliary today.

Meetings of the department councils and credentials committees were scheduled for this afternoon, although only preliminary action on various items of state business will be taken at both of these.

Opens Tuesday

Formal opening of the Sons of Veterans sessions will not occur until 1:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The encampment of the auxiliary will get under way at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

State leaders of both the Sons of Veterans and the Sons of Veterans Auxiliary, the former meeting for their 50th annual encampment and the latter for their 47th, arrived in the city Sunday afternoon along with the advance guard of delegates.

A special train over the Pennsylvania railroad, chartered especially for G. A. R. comrades and their wives, brought a host of Sons and auxiliary members.

Seipp In Command

Department Commander J. Edward Seipp, of Philadelphia, and Department Secretary William R. McGirr, also from that city, among the first to arrive yesterday. Both checked in at the Fountain Inn, headquarters for the Sons and the Auxiliary, shortly after noon.

Mrs. Clara Samuels, Allentown, department president of the auxiliary, and Mrs. Cora Peters, state secretary, were among the early arrivals of women delegates. Others included Mrs. Libbie Meis, Philadelphia, the department treasurer, and Mrs. Clara R. Gallagher, West Philadelphia, department chief of staff.

The majority of the Sons and their wives were arriving today and at noon the combined registration was estimated at 350, with half the number members of the auxiliary and the other half Sons. It is expected that registration figures for both organizations will exceed the 500 mark by tomorrow.

A large number of delegates who arrived on Sunday attended the union Pentecostal service in the Cathedral. Besides registering there was nothing scheduled for the delegates. The convention does not formally open until Tuesday afternoon.

Some time today, probably this afternoon, members of the department council of the Sons will meet at the Fountain Inn to take preliminary action on matters scheduled to come up before the convention. No definite hour was set for this meeting. The auxiliary council meeting opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the headquarters hotel. Featuring this will be the audit of department books.

At 3 o'clock today the auxiliary's credentials committee will meet, following which a reception for the Sons will be held in the rooms of the Elks club. All convention meetings of the auxiliary will occur there.

While the convention of the Sons will not open until Tuesday afternoon, the auxiliary sessions will get under way at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning in the Elks Home. Bertha E. Daugherty, chairman of the convention committee, Oscar L. Jackson, Camp No. 249, Sons of Union Veterans Auxiliary, this city, will extend the greetings for the city. Response will be made by a visiting member of the encampment.

Convention sessions of the Sons will occur in the Sons of Union Veterans hall in the city building. After the official opening by State Commander Seipp at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon, the convention will hear responses and then launch into convention business.

At 7:30 p. m. Tuesday the delegates of the Sons, together with members of the auxiliary unit will honor the G. A. R. and allied organizations at a reception in the Cathedral ball room.

Meetings of both the Sons and the ladies will continue through until Thursday afternoon. On Wednesday afternoon they will participate in the street parade which promises to be a highlight of the stay of the veterans.

SONS OF VETERANS RESERVE FORMALLY OPENS CAMP WALTON

which has been made possible through the generosity of New Castle citizens.

In a brief address Colonel Prittie responded and Captain Stoutt then introduced William D. Walton after whose father, Milton Walton, the camp is named. Mr. Walton contributed $500.00 towards the camp and following the custom of the Sons of Veterans he was asked to name the camp.

Mrs. Alice James of Reading, Pa., presided at the camp with the Brigade marker. The general chairman, Hon. Fred L. Rentz, and the camp donor, William D. Walton, were presented to the Master of Ceremonies by Captain Frank Hill of New Castle.

Guard Mount Interesting
The formal mounting of the guard always a pretty spectacle in a military camp interested the spectators. The guard was preceded by field music, this being furnished by the Harry L. McBride Bugle and Drum Corps of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Harshburg Bugle and Drum Corps of the Sons of Veterans. Captain H. G. Garvin of the Second Infantry acted as Officer of the Guard, and Captain William D. Parker of Company K as Officer of the Day. It was the first brigade guard of the encampment. The units comprising the guard were E Company of the 3rd Infantry, Williamsport, Pa., and K Company of the 4th Infantry, New Castle. The American flag was raised as a part of the guard mount.

Many staff officers were present for the camp presentation. Listed in the row of military spectators were Major O. G. MacPherson, Assistant Adjutant General of the brigade, Col. W. W. Stevenson of New Castle, Captain E. P. Snyder, Quarter Master General, Captain Walter C. Horn, Division Music Director, Major E. M. Post of the 3rd Infantry. Prominent civilians were present also.

The guard of honor for the presentation committee was composed of local ex-service men. Later in the afternoon Lieutenant Harvey G. Blintrin, commanding Troop F, 103rd Cavalry at the head of his troop, rode over from the troop stables to the encampment and paid his respects to Col. Edwin John Prittie, camp commander. Lieutenant Blintrin is co-operating with the authorities in making this encampment a success and has offered his troop for any service necessary.

During the afternoon the promotion of Private 1st Class E. F. Strassbarger to the post of corporal was announced. Late in the evening several units of the Sons of Veterans arrived and more are expected today.

Parade Plans Are Announced

Route Of Procession On Wednesday Is Given By Marshal

Chief Marshal, Colonel William W. Stevenson announces the line of the big parade to take place in the City of New Castle, Pa., June 11, (Wednesday this week) at 3:00 p. m. Daylight Savings Time.

The parade will form at the corner of West Grant street and North Jefferson street with the right resting on the south west corner of this intersection. Then it will move south on Jefferson street to the Diamond turn right on the Diamond and circle the Diamond continue east on East Washington street to Croton avenue, turn to the right on Croton avenue, continue on South Croton avenue to Produce street, continue on Produce street to the intersection of East Washington street at Court street, turn to the left at East Washington street, continue on same to Mercer street, turn to the right on Mercer street, continue on to Falls street, turn to the left on Falls street, continue on Falls street to Jefferson street where the Chief Marshal and his aides will fall out and review the parade and the units will disband or go to quarters.

Late last night there were some 50 tents at Camp Walton, at Scotland Lane. The plot of ground where the tents stand seems to be ideal for the encampment. There is plenty of room, a certain amount of privacy, and only a short distance from New

G. A. R. Convention Headquarters

THE CASTLETON
Corner Mercer and Falls Streets, Headquarters For State G. A. R. Convention In Session This Week.

Sidelights On Convention

Mrs. Mary G. Caldwell, of Pittsburgh, state and national soloist of the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic for many years will sing at the local sessions of the State Department, Ladies of the G. A. R. She has also been soloist of Damascus White Shrine, Pittsburgh, for the past thirteen years.

Henry K. Landis, of Lancaster, Pa., R. D. No. 5, may be over eighty years of age, but he is one of the spriest of the Civil War veterans in attendance, traces his family history clear back to Italy and tells of helping to build the Harrisburg-Gettysburg railroad, way back in the earlier days of the eighteenth century.

One of the boys of 161-65 rather startled the ladies at the registering table, when he announced that he wanted "a single room in a widows house." He was accommodated and he is the only one in that widows house.

Another of the veterans from the eastern section of the state remarked when questioned as to where he came from that he was from the section, where "they had fat oxen and dumb people."

Daniel Kressley, of Leighton, Pa., had the honor of being the first Civil War veteran to register at The Castleton Headquarters of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Among the outstanding visitors at The Castleton is Mrs. Abbie Lynch of Pittsburgh, Past National President of the Woman's Relief Corps.

In the corridors of The Castleton it is openly announced that Mrs. Mabel Hyslop Moore, of Oil City, a member of Corps No. 60 of Pittsburgh, will be the next president of the State Department of the Woman's Relief Corps.

Mrs. Jessie Crooks of this city, looks like a winner in the race for the position of Senior Vice President of the State Department, Daughters of Union Veterans. She is one of the energetic workers of the local Daughters of Union Veterans.

Ida Dorsey, of Scranton, is quite frequently mentioned as the probable choice of the Daughters of Union Veterans as State President.

Mrs. Zella Foster George of the Local Circle of the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, is expected to prove the successful candidate for Junior Vice President of the Pennsylvania Department, Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic.

There was one of the boys in blue lamented last night that while his post was at the National Encampment in Atlantic City, something like fifteen years ago, that they had a picture taken with thirty members including himself in the same. He is now the only survivor of the group.

The joy of a veteran from Philadelphia was saddened to a great extent, when he sought to locate a certain local veteran, whom he described as a little man with a mustache and carrying a cane and having an important part in post affairs of this city and whom it was finally determined was the late Colonel J. Smith DuShane, had passed on. He was hoping to meet him at this gathering.

Late last night there were some 50 tents at Camp Walton, at Scotland Lane. The plot of ground where the tents stand seems to be ideal for the encampment. There is plenty of room, a certain amount of privacy, and only a short distance from New Castle. The better way of getting to the camp from the public square is by way of West Washington street. That road takes you straight to the camping grounds. You can also get there by way of the Youngstown road—turn to your left a short distance from the top of the Youngstown hill

Jacob Wentzel, past commander of the Sons of Union Veterans Camp at Uniontown, is most frequently heard in the various headquarters as the next Department Commander of the Sons of Union Veterans.

Sunset at Camp Milton Walton, Sunday evening, was a sight to tug at your heart strings. There were no gorgeous colors about it—just some delicate shades of lavender and pink. The pretty sky stood as a halo in the background, shining down upon the white tents of the Sons of Veterans camp.

H. V. Cares of Altoona, healthy Civil War veteran, says that the most important things to observe, if you wish to live long and retain your health, are to not eat too much, rest when you are tired and take things as they come, not regretting things that are past. He says that drinking liquor and eating to excess are both detrimental to health. Cares is happy and energetic and was born 86 years ago, on Valentine Day. "That accounts for the 'V' in my name," remarked Cares, smilingly.

"Last Encampment! Not on your life!" said Dr. L. F. Arensburg, of Arensburg, Pa., past state and national commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, when questioned as to the possibility of the state department continuing, after the present encampment. "As long as there is one left, we plan to carry on. Just ask any of the boys. They'll tell you that they will carry on to the last man."

"Speaking of National Encampments," continued Dr. Arensburg, "I'm national trustee and treasurer of the permanent fund of the Grand Army of the Republic, which has reached such a size due to the little made made on it, that we can have national encampments for the next ten years and never need to call on others to help us. And the encampments will keep on as long as I have anything to say about the fund."

It will be of interest to learn that the Pennsylvania Department, Grand Army of the Republic, still has a surviving membership of 2,700, in spite of the fact that the very youngest member of the organization is 85 and many are as old as 95 years. It is the largest department in membership in the entire organization. New York State, which is a more populous state, is second with but 23000 surviving members.

Service in the interests of their country and the most strenuous war service that could be conceived, has had the effect of lengthening the life of the boys of 1861-65 who are here, if one may judge by what they can see and hear. Bright, undimmed eyes, active and agile, they belie their four score and more years.

Mrs. Alice M. James of Reading, Pa., Department Chaplain of the Ladies of the G. A. R., presented a marker to the chief of staff of the Pennsylvania Brigade, Sons of Veterans Reserve, Camp Milton Walton on behalf of Reading Circle No. 5, Ladies of the G. A. R.

"Seventy years ago," remarked one of the Civil War veterans this morning, "a minister of the gospel, speaking at a meeting, prophesied that some day people would be able to talk to each other a hundred miles away and would be able to fasten a pair of wings to their bodies and fly high in the air, like birds. Myself, and four buddies of about the same age, were very much interested in the latter statement and used to tell stories of where we would go, if we had wings. In later years, three of my pals were killed in the Civil War. I don't know what happened to the fourth. To my knowledge, I am the only one of the five to have seen the minister's prophecy come true."

Troop F gave a splendid exhibition of riding, Sunday afternoon, following the formal opening of Camp Milton Walton, at Scotland Lane. The stables of Troop F are situated directly across the road from the tents of the Sons of Veterans camp.

Thirty-four mounts will be used by Troop F in the parade Wednesday. Twenty some horses are owned by the troop, and the rest will be donated for use in the parade.

Special train for G. A. R. members pulled in at the Pennsylvania station on West Washington street on time Sunday evening. Quite a crowd of people were at the station to witness the arrival. The veterans quite spryly stepped from the train, carrying their bags. To most of the men, this was their first visit to New Castle. Twenty-five automobiles were there to convey them to their respective lodgings.

Upon seeing the public square, H. V. Cares of Altoona remarked about the attractive looking soldier's monument. It did look nice, too. The soldier's ears had been washed and the rest of the monument scrubbed a couple of weeks ago, so as to look respectable for the inspection of the veterans. The hedge, grass, newly planted trees, painted cannon, memorial and the G. A. R. pennants complete a perfect public square.

One of the real sights when the special train pulled in last night at the West Side Station from Philadelphia was the greetings between members of the famous "Bucktail" regiment of this state. W. A. McKay of Utica, Pa., has arrived and when the train pulled in, he was one of the first to reach the train. Two of his pals arrived and their greetings was most touching. There was a third pal who was not on the train and Mr. McKay asked "Where's Bill?" "He's not here, but he's coming!" Then all was joy.

One of the interesting features of the campfire Wednesday evening in the Cathedral will be the presentation to the Seno, High School of a fine picture of Abraham Lincoln by Mrs. Jennie C. Houston, of Chester, Pa., Department of the Ladies of the G. A. R.

Here are some names of Pennsylvania-born men who were awarded medals for Deeds of Valor in the Civil War. Wonder if any are present at this last encampment?—Elwood N. Williams, Dewitt C. Lewis, Charles B. Tanner, Jacob G. Orth, William H. Paul, Mathew S. Quay, Jacob G. Frick, E. M. Woodward, Forrester L. Taylor, Charles C. Davis, James M. Rutter, Alfred J. Sedgwick, George W. Roosevelt, Edward L. Gilligan, John M. Pipes, John B. Fassitt, William E. Miller, J. L. Roush, George W. Meers, Chester S. Furman, Henry C. Slusher, Moses Veale, Everett W. Anderson, Patrick DeLacy, Henry Capehart, Robert A. Gray, Francis Morrison, Albert D. Wright, Sylvester H. Martin, Joseph E. McCabe, Archibald H. Rowand, Junior, Sylvester D. Rhodes, Cecil Clay, Alexander Kelly, William L. Graul, Michael Sowers, John Wainwright, John M. Vanderslice, William Sands, Daniel Caldwell, John C. Matthews, Joseph Fisher, John C. Ewing, Lester G. Hack, Robert L. Orr, Wilmon Blackmar, Thomas W. Hoffman, John Lilley, James K. Peirson, Francis M. Cunningham, Hugh P. Boon and Charles M. Betts.

Colonel Samuel P. Town, of Philadelphia, assistant adjutant general of the Pennsylvania Department, Grand Army of the Republic, was all smiles this morning, when he remarked that everything was fine, that the treatment was excellent and that there was every indication that there would be a fine encampment.

Lenora Helm, of New Kensington, is an active candidate for the honor of heading the Ladies of the G. A. R. during the coming year, according to the reports around headquarters in The Castleton.

Mabel Kline, Reading, Pa., member of the Woman's Relief Corps, had the boys of 61-65 all smiles and bright eyed this morning in the corridor of The Castleton, as she played the old familiar tunes of Marching Through Georgia, Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, Johnny Comes Marching Home, America, and other airs of the days of the Civil War and the present time. She is an expert cornetist and plays for the boys at all the encampments.

West Virginia Veterans Meet

State Encampment Is Being Held At Moundsville, This Week

(International News Service)
MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., June 9.—Gayly bedecked with flags and bunting, Moundsville presented a patriotic and gala appearance today to visitors and delegates arriving for the 48th annual state encampment, West Virginia department, Grand Army of the Republic.

Less than 100 survivors of the thousands of West Virginia men who responded to the call of Lincoln in 1861 to help preserve the union are expected to attend the encampment which opens here tomorrow and continues through Thursday.

State conventions of the Ladies of the G. A. R., Women's Relief Corps and the Daughters of Union Veterans will be held concurrently with the encampment. Between 500 and 1,000 visitors were expected to share the city's hospitality during the encampment.

Final plans for the encampment are in the hands of State Commander J. T. McCombs, for whom a reception will be held here tonight.

One of the biggest features of the encampment will be a mammoth street parade through the flag-draped streets on Wednesday. A camp fire will follow the parade on Wednesday night at which H. C. Ogden, Wheeling publisher, will be the speaker.

Mrs. J. S. Martin Injured In Fall

Friends of Mrs. J. S. Martin of 319 Park avenue, who was severely injured in a fall down stairs at her home a week ago, will be sorry to learn that she will undergo a serious operation in the James Memorial hospital Tuesday.

Mrs. Martin suffered a broken arm and dislocated shoulder in the fall, and an operation will be necessary to promote proper healing of the injury.

As the bitter poor see only evil in Wall street, so the critic of lowly origin sees only ignorant trash in the section noted for its aristocracy.

Veteran Returns To City After Absence Of 64 Years

Sixty-four years ago, a young man just past twenty years of age, came to New Castle and got a job in an ore mine, in Croton, along the Ne-shannock creek. The young man had recently been discharged from the Union army, after a year's service.

Last evening, this same man returned to New Castle, to attend the last encampment of the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic. The 64 years have made changes in the man, and greater changes in the city he had seen in his first visit.

And because of this former visit, New Castle is a city of unusual interest to William H. Merriman, Civil War veteran of Latrobe, Westmoreland county. Merriman is 83 years of age—and fit as a fiddle.

"There is not much resemblance between the New Castle of today and the New Castle I saw in 1866," remarked Merriman. "When I was here, there were not more than 4000 people living in the town proper and vicinity. And the main street—just a mud puddle."

Merriman worked in an ore mine in Croton for six or eight weeks. During that time he was with a half dozen other men, dug 100 ton of ore. His father, Charles Merriman, was connected with the mining work. He had a brother-in-law in New Castle, Billy McCreary, and a cousin, Tom McCreary, who had a tobacco store.

The ore mine owners went bankrupt, the furnace was moved from Croton, and Merriman went to Sharon to work in a coal mine. The mines there were stopped temporarily because the Erie Canal froze up. Merriman went to Allegheny county and returned to the job he had left when he had joined the army.

He is glad to be back in New Castle and is trying to find out if Tom McCreary, or any other of his relatives are living here.

AUSTRIANS SHUN GRAND HOTELS OF OLD REGIME

By RUTH JANE WILLIAMS
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

VIENNA, June 9.—Austrian hotel managers believe that the new generation disdains luxury.

In the days of kings and crown princes and large royal retinues, the magnificent hotels scattered throughout Austria summer and winter resorts were full and overflowing.

Today one of the most famous of the great resort hotels in Europe is in serious financial difficulties for lack of guests. This is the Hotel Panhaus on the Semmering, in the mountain region a few hours out of Vienna.

Formerly all the Viennese in comfortable circumstances made weekend or longer visits at the Panhaus or other good hotels in this district throughout the year. Now the Viennese, no matter how heavy or light his purse may be, prefers to rough it rather than bask in the comfort of steam heat, running water, and Persian rugs in the heart of the mountains.

According to the hotel men of Austria, this change has come about through the passing of the royal retinues. They do not blame the lack of money for the decrease in luxury-demanding customers, but rather the new ideals which have come in with the democratic government.

Rhine To Be Free Of Troops June 30

(International News Service)
MAYENCE, June 9.—Despite apprehensions of the German Nationalists that the well known ingenuity of the French Prime Minister, will find some excuse after all to delay the evacuation of the last German Rhineland zone promised for June 30, preparations for such an evacuation are already getting under way.

The French troops, who have been in this zone for more than ten years, have already evacuated several barracks here.

A number of fortifications used in maneuver of the troops of occupation have been surrendered.

The French military hospitals have been practically emptied of patients and house only hospital attendants.

Many French civilians connected with the army of occupation have given up their homes and have left, helping to relieve the housing shortage in the occupied area.

"Singing Cop" To Get Musical Training

(International News Service)
ANAHEIM, Cal., June 9.—George Stinson, the "singing cop" of the state motorcycle patrol in Orange county whose voice Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink recently declared was second to that of Caruso, is to receive a musical education, it was announced.

With Madame Schumann-Heink, the Orange county American Legion and members of Stinson's highway patrol as its sponsors, a benefit concert will be given here soon.

Believes America Has Best Audiences

(International News Service)
PARIS, June 9.—The American audience is the ideal one for artists according to Alexandre Brailowsky, well known pianist recently returned from the United States.

"Nowhere in the world" said Mr. Brailowsky, "will one find a more cultivated and enthusiastic audience than in New York City. The people possess sufficient culture to make them understand the value of realization and effort and they are extremely prompt to show their pleasure. The so-called 'Anglo-Saxon coldness' is a big myth if one is to judge from the audiences I saw assembled in the big American concert-halls."

The pianist also added that the place to go to learn music was America and not Europe. He believes that the large element of Latin blood among the Americans has contributed to their important musical ability as well as to their communicative and warm-hearted character.

Schoolboy Starts Poultry Controversy

(International News Service)
SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 9.—Seven-year-old Willie Howe of Alturas started something when he took issue with a school book which said that a hen turned her hatching eggs with her feet.

"Wrong!" succinctly wrote Willie. "Hens turn eggs with their beak!" Sam Cohn, assistant state superintendent of education, who got the letter, referred it to G. H. Hecke, agricultural director.

"I think Willie's right," ruled Hecke. Poultry experts were then called in and their opinion was that both Willie and the school book were right. But Prof. W. E. Lloyd of the College of Agriculture at Davis complicated the issue still further when he ruled: "A hen turns her eggs by movement of her body, but occasionally uses her beak."

Says U. S. Surgeons Can Teach Europeans

(International News Service)
PARIS, June 9.—American surgeons have much to teach European doctors, especially in regard to orthopedic surgery and the treatment of nervous diseases, according to Dr. Petit-Dutaillis, well known Paris surgeon, who recently sailed to study on the other side. Upon leaving, he said he expected to bring back information which would be of greatest importance for Parisian hospitals.

Fair Directors Have Meeting

Committee Men Are Working Hard To Perfect Details For This Year's Fair

At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the New Castle Fair, Saturday evening, in the office of the New Castle Fair Association, important details were discussed and decisions were made in regard to this year's Fair. The directors planned to start today in having several buildings at the fair grounds moved to better locations on the grounds and to make several other changes of importance at the farm.

Already, workmen have improved the looks of the fair grounds to a great extent. The buildings have been painted white, fences repaired and entrance erected. Without any doubt, the Fair will be outstanding in the history of the Association.

The following committees are working hard to get everything ready for the Fair dates, August 5, 6, and 7: auditing, W. H. Atkinson, L. M. Reed, W. R. Rodgers; cattle, Robert B. Stoner, A. H. Fullerton, L. M. Reed; concessions, J. A. Boak, T. J. McCullough, J. L. Burton; cavalcade, Thomas Cooper, A. H. Fullerton, W. H. Atkinson; draft horses, J. L. Burton, G. J. Forrest, James E. Ellis; finance, W. H. Atkinson, J. A. Boak, J. L. Burton; fruits, vegetables, honey, A. E. McCreary, W. H. Atkinson, J. A. Boak; grounds, T. J. McCullough, G. J. Forrest, J. W. Hartwell; granges, A. H. Fullerton, W. B. Rodgers, J. A. Boak; hogs, L. M. Reed, James E. Ellis, A. H. Fullerton; insurance, Robert B. Stoner, music and entertainment, T. J. McCullough, John S. Crowe and A. H. Fullerton.

Committees for policing and parking consists of James E. Ellis, G. J. Forrest, J. L. Burton; publicity, A. H. Fullerton, Thomas Cooper, Delancey Cole, George Fox and John S. Crowe; purchasing, W. B. Rodgers, Thomas McNeese, A. H. Fullerton; poultry, Thomas McNeese, C. M. McCormick, J. L. Burton; premiums, A. H. Fullerton, Robert B. Stoner, J. L. Burton, L. M. Reed, A. E. Rodgers, Mrs. Thomas Cooper, Mrs. J. L. Burton, Miss Francis Fullerton.

Superintendents of the committees are the first names mentioned in the above list.

Bull Fights Are Held In France

(International News Service)
PARIS, June 9.—In spite of the fact that bull-fighting is very much forbidden by law in France, there were a number of important "corridas" in the Southern towns of Nîmes, Arles and Dax during Easter week. At Arles, the latest fight was going to be called off because of bad weather, but visitors to the town who had come in purposely for the spectacle organized a meeting of protest and obliged the performance to be put on for them. Three bulls were killed in true Spanish fashion. The building is a huge building, classed as an historical monument and under government control.

Vare Angered Over Brown's Defeat In Gubernatorial Nomination

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—William S. Vare, Republican leader of Philadelphia, plans to return here this week from his summer home at Atlantic City to take personal charge of the G. O. P. in this city, it was reported today. Forced to withdraw from the senatorial race in the May primary and to take a "back seat" while Councilman Charles Hall and the so-called "war board" directed the primary campaign Vare is grimly determined, it is said, to again assume full leadership because of the disastrous defeat of Francis Shunk Brown, Sr., the gubernatorial candidate of the Philadelphia organization.

Sisters Reunited After 28 Years

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 9.—In 1902, in the little town of Mohiliv, Russia, three sisters were separated. Today, 28 years later, the three have been reunited with the arrival of the last of the three from Montreal, Canada.

The sisters are Mrs. Bertha Reznick, who has just arrived, Mrs. Anna Greenberg and Mrs. Fannie Frank. They were young girls when the mother emigrated to America following the death of their father. She brought Anna with her and later sent for Fannie, but the war broke out before Bertha could be brought to America.

German Fascist Wars In Jazz Music

(International News Service)
BERLIN, June 9.—Herr Frick, Fascist minister of the interior of the German midjet state of Thuringia has issued a "proclamation against negro culture and for Germanic Folk Customs," in which he declares war against jazz bands, negro dances, negro songs and negro dramas which represent a glorification of the negro race and a blow in the face of German Kultur.

Herr Frick is the only active and openly Fascist minister in Germany and is already engaged in a war with the national government which cancelled all police subsidies to Thuringia until it investigated charges that Herr Frick is trying to convert the Thuringian police into a Fascist shock troop.

His proclamation instructs the police to cancel the licenses of all theatres and cabarets which violate the above ban.

The decree has revived in Germany the old quarrel as to whether jazz is music or not.

Many German conservatives still deny it, but the music composers seem to be of the opinion that the answer depends on what kind of jazz is meant.

Good jazz, says Professor von Reznick, noted composer, is music. Bad jazz, however, "is merely an aggravated sore of disturbance of the peace."

Listening To Race Results Not Gambling

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, June 9.—Listening to race results over a radio does not constitute gambling, Judge Frank M. Padden ruled in police court here.

Seventy-seven men were arraigned before him, charged with gambling because police had raided a hall in which they were listening to a broadcast on the phones.

"That isn't gambling," Judge Padden told officers. And dismissed the men.

Classes In Voice Culture and Piano Playing Being Organized This Week

Special Summer Rates for Children's Classes During June and July

PAUL BROWNE PATTERSON
President Civic Music Association
Director Festival Choral Society
Director Patterson School of Music
Organist and Choirmaster Trinity Episcopal Church

Comments from the Press of the Country:

New York Herald, N. Y. (Concert in Carnegie Music Hall)—Mr. Patterson's voice is rich and of heroic volume. He possesses a sensitive interpretative instinct which accounts for the intense and continued interest in his singing.

Chicago Daily Inter-Ocean, Chicago, Ill. (Concert in Auditorium)—Paul Brown Patterson showed great vocal and pianistic talent. It is not unfair to the other excellent artists on the program to give Mr. Patterson credit for carrying off the honors of the evening.

Pittsburgh Leader, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Mr. Paul Browne Patterson is the possessor of a full, rich and powerful voice of great compass and flexibility which he uses with intelligence and fine sense of musical values.

"The Simpsonian", Simpson College, Iowa—The second recital in the Artists Course was given by Paul Browne Patterson, singer-pianist. It has seldom been our good fortune to secure so good a recital. Mr. Patterson's performances are highly finished and artistic.

Colorado Springs Telegraph—His deep bass voice is a marvel in its sonority. A career of great possibility lies before this artist if he continues on the concert stage.

Two Places Are Entered Here Over Week End

New Castle Grocery And William Clark Plumbing Company Are Burglarized

RECOVER GOODS TAKEN AT GROCERY

Attempts Are Made To Enter Three Other Places, According to Reports

Two places were entered and robbed over the week-end, while discovery was made of attempts to burglarize three other establishments, according to reports made to the police Sunday and this morning.

William Koonce of the William Clark Plumbing Co. reported to police this morning that their place of business had been entered some time since Saturday night and the safe broken open, although nothing of value was taken. This is the second time the place has been entered in two weeks, no report having been made of the previous attempt.

Entrance was effected by breaking the glass in a rear door and reaching through and turning the lock from the inside.

The safe was entered by turning the combination, so police believe the job was done by someone with an intimate knowledge of the premises. A pick and pinch bar was used to pry open the money drawer inside the safe. Officers Lockard, Allger and Wallace conducted a preliminary investigation this morning. Detectives Lynch and Logan are investigating further.

Recover Stolen Goods

At 8:30 Sunday evening William Howe of the New Castle Grocery Company reported that their establishment on Produce street had been entered and a quantity of foodstuffs and cigarettes taken.

Entrance was effected by cutting through a screen and breaking a window, the robbers leaving by way of a rear door, along the P. & L. E. railway siding.

Detectives Lynch and Logan made an investigation and after searching in the vicinity of the grocery discovered the loot which had been taken had been hidden in a pile of sand in the sand house at Ramsey's, next door. They uncovered 25 cartons of cigarettes, 12 boxes of cheese, some ginger ale, grape juice, chewing tobacco, dates and figs.

Police believe the robbery was the work of boys and are conducting an investigation along that line.

Report was made to the police at nine o'clock Sunday evening that the grating at the rear of the William Wilson meat market and McKee's Cut Rate Store at 19 and 21 North Mill street, had been torn off and an attempt made to enter these two places.

An investigation revealed that neither place had been entered, the perpetrators having evidently been frightened away.

Report was made to the police at 2:45 Sunday morning by Eddie Martin of the Savannah road that someone had thrown a brick through the window of the tailor shop of A. Owoc at 22 West Long avenue.

Officers Lockard and Hanna investigated and found that a large stone had been thrown through a rear window. A woman residing nearby told the officers that she had seen a man running away from the scene wearing a dark suit and dark cap. Nothing had been taken.

Township P. T. A. Honors Teachers

Union High Faculty Members, Leaving Staff, Guests At Farewell Event

Mrs. Carrie Jeffries Roberts and Mrs. Delas Burnside, who left the teaching staff of the Union high school with the close of school last week, were jointly honored at a farewell reception given for them by the Union Township Parent-Teachers Association in the Union high auditorium.

Seventy-five members and friends met on Friday night and enjoyed a most delightful program of music and good fellowship. Harold Moore favored with several classical selections and the Griddle brothers contributed several quartet and duet numbers. Billie Williams sang several solos in his best style. Other special numbers were contributed.

At the close of the program refreshments were served in the board room, attractively decorated in school colors.

Morris Cox, president of the P. T. A., gave reminiscences of earlier days of the school, and at the close of his remarks presented to Mrs. Roberts a beautiful traveling purse containing a sum of money. Both Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Burnside were also recipients of beautiful mesh bags.

The expressions of gratitude by all present to the committees in charge proved it a most enjoyable affair.

PARISIAN VISITS HIS BRIDE-TO-BE

Arrival of Maurice Fould in Minneapolis, Minn., adds another chapter to the town's most romantic betrothal. He is the fiance of Mrs. Muriel Wright Allen of that city and a descendant of the fabulously wealthy Rothschild family of France. They met several years ago at the home of mutual friends and Fould recalled that years before Mrs. Allen, then a little girl, had written her name beneath his on Eiffel tower, in Paris. They both are shown above.

Marble Tourney Finals To Open

Inter-School Matches To Be Launched At Carnegie Playground Tues.-day

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME SET FOR THURSDAY

Final eliminations in the second annual city-wide scholastic marble tournament, under the auspices of the Benjamin Franklin Junior Hi-Y club will occur at the Carnegie playground, South Jefferson street, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons of this week.

The tournament was announced in The News some time ago, and since that time various schools have been determining the best marble shooter they have to represent them in the school eliminations this week.

Boys and girls of the North Street and West side buildings, where contests were not held, are asked to report at the Carnegie grounds Wednesday, June 11, from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. at which time they will be permitted to compete.

Boys qualified by the experience gained from conducting last year's tournament will be on hand this year. They are urged to be at the playgrounds tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The following schedule will be in effect Tuesday.

ROUND ONE

All matches of round one will consist of five games. The player winning three out of five games will be considered the winner of that match.

Match I at 3 p. m., daylight savings time. Ring I—Charles Yearage, Aiken school vs Mike Apicelli, Croton school.

Match II at 3 p. m. Ring II—Nickie Carbone, Franklin vs John Thomas, George Washington.

Match III at 3 p. m. Ring III—Paul Rumbaugh, Highland vs the winner of Lincoln-Garfield. There were three winners entered from this school because of their ability. These boys will play for the championship of Lincoln-Garfield on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Carnegie playgrounds. They are: Manual Kakes, Stanley Miron and Benny Santangelo.

Match IV at 4 p. m. Ring I—Armen DeMuccio, Mahoning vs. the winner of Arthur McGill.

Match V at 4 p. m. Ring II—Salvatore DeMartino, Oak Street vs. Frank Morella, Pollock.

Match VI at 4 p. m. Ring III—Wylie McGaffie, Rose Avenue vs. Elias of Terrace Avenue.

GERMAN "LUGGIES" IRE SCOTS

Loyal Scots are perturbed over the importation of "luggies", miniature milking pails used for porridge dishes for children. The "luggie" has been distinctly a Scotch institution until the death in Cumberland recently of the last luggie maker of the country. Since then Germany has been shipping into Scotland cheap imitations of the unique bowl.

58 PIANOS LOANED

FREE

Fifty-eight pianos (Grands, Players and Uprights, both new and used instruments) will be placed in homes of New Castle and vicinity, and they may be used until we need them—which will be an indefinite time. On a moment's notice the Baldwin Company of Cincinnati were forced to take over the entire stock of their former dealer at Sharon, Pa. Boxing, drayage, freight, possible scratching and marring meant a terrific loss in re-shipping to Cincinnati. These instruments have been transferred here and as a result our floors are overcrowded. We prefer giving you the benefit of this loss and will cut prices sensationally. If you have ever thought of buying a piano, now is the time. All pianos not sold outright will be placed in the homes of families who are interested in owning a piano in the immediate future, and for the valuable advertising we will receive by having good families use them. We reserve the right to select the homes in which these pianos are to be placed.

Positively No Charge for Anything

No cartage, no rent or any expense whatever. No phone orders. You must call at the store to make your selection. No matter if you live out of town you are just as welcome to one of these instruments as those residing right in the city. There are no strings to this offer, which comes but once in a lifetime.

New Prices ON PACKARD STANDARD EIGHTS

5-PASSENGER SEDAN NOW

$2085

[AT THE FACTORY]

FOUR HUNDRED DOLLARS, nearly 20% off the old price, is the amount Packard has reduced the entire Standard Eight line of eleven beautiful and distinguished models. Think what that means! It means that the Packard Standard Eight 5-passenger Sedan, for example, now costs but $2085 at the factory.

These new prices open the door to Packard ownership for new thousands of those who have always preferred a Packard but felt unable to go beyond "the $2000 price class." At last the opportunity to make your own dreams of Packard ownership come true! And just at the right time—when you are probably considering the purchase of a new car.

Be sure before you buy any car costing $1500 or over that you see us and learn the real secret of Packard ownership at no extra cost. We can prove to your complete satisfaction, with facts and figures, that a Packard Standard Eight will cost you no more to own or operate than any other car of like size and power.

You know your present cost of car ownership. We know the cost of Packard ownership. Bring your cost figures in and let us compare them with ours. And then drive the Packard Standard Eight, big, powerful, luxurious and beautiful. You will want it—and you can own it.

Probably the allowance on your present car will enable you to drive away in your new Packard with little or no down payment. The small amount of the monthly payments on the balance will surprise you.

Now we have a full line of models and color combinations. Now is the time to act.

Prayer In Congress

The chaplain, Rev. ZeBarney T. Phillips, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, may Thy presence go with us into the life of this new day, strengthening us in all our needs, directing us in all our ways. Make us to be kindly affectioned one to another; in honor preferring one another; not slothful; fervent in spirit, serving the Lord.

Give us that rare atmosphere of mind through which the world of nature may be raised into our thought, imparting somewhat of its mystic beauty. Touch Thou our lips, that we may speak the language of real men, acquired not on the level of ordinary intercourse but in moments of vivid sensation, when language is uninvoked and ennobled by sentiment, that, with thought and speech held captive to Thy will, we may use our varied gifts to the glory of Thy kingdom. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Institute Helps Many Nationalities

Praiseworthy Work Has Been Done By International Institute In Past Year

June 9, 1930.

During the past year, the local International Institute has worked with fifteen different nationalities and has interpreted their languages for individuals and organizations, according to a report recently submitted by the Y. W. C. A. board.

International Institute is an organization that deserves great credit for their work. The headquarters are on Pennsylvania Ave. and Miss Emma Moore is the executive. The Institute has cooperated with many agencies of welfare local national and international. It's aim is to help both American and foreign born to become better acquainted and to understand the cultures of the many people who are participating in our national life.

In the past year it has strived to help foreign-born persons to adopt themselves to a new country and share in its growth and development. It has helped to find employment, recreation, friends and a chance for self expression in naturalization, immigration and personal problems; and teaches the English language.

Secretaries meet at the trains and visit in their homes, the newly arrived immigrants, giving service in the perplexing problems which confront the stranger thus furthering the development of happy, normal, adjusted lives. Clubs are organized and suitable forms of entertainment are provided.

Gaston Post To Meet Tuesday Eve

Initiation Will Be Feature Of Last Meeting Of American Legion Until Fall

Tuesday evening, members of the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, will hold their final meeting of the summer season, when initiation will be one of the features.

It is expected that the meeting will be largely attended by visiting members who are here attending the state campment of the G. A. R. and its affiliated organizations, many of whom are members of the American Legion.

A buffet lunch will be served at the close of the meeting which is expected to be one of the largest in some time.

Legion Of Honor Corps To Rehearse

All members of the Legion of Honor Bugle and Drum Corps are requested by Commander Howard Geary to attend the rehearsal at the Cathedral this evening at 8 o'clock.

THE QUESTION BOX

Answers to questions of information and fact can be obtained by writing to Central Press Bureau, P. O. Box 126, Washington, D. C., and enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. No answers will be given to marital, medical or legal questions.

Which were the first units of the United States expeditionary forces to be landed in Europe?

The war department states that the first United States army unit to go abroad for the World war was base hospital No. 4, which sailed from New York May 8, 1917, and arrived in Liverpool May 17, 1917. The first division was the pioneer combat force of the American army in France. The various units left New York City June 12, 1917, on three transports and arrived at St. Nazaire, France, on June 26 and June 28, 1917.

How did the frigate Constitution get its name "Old Ironsides"? During the historic fight with the "Guerriere" the cannonballs rebounded from her stout oak hull as though they had hit iron and thus earned her the name "Old Ironsides."

Was the state of Washington named after George Washington? When the bill creating the territory of Columbia was introduced into the thirty-second congress, the name was changed to Washington because of the existence of the District of Columbia, and in honor of George Washington.

Who was Andrew Bonar Law? He was a famous British statesman born in New Brunswick, Canada, Sept. 16, 1858. He was the son of a Presbyterian minister, the Rev. James Law and Eliza Kidson, and was a Scottish ancestry. As a boy he was taken to Glasgow, where after a few years in school, he entered business. Gaining a competence he went into parliament in 1900 as a Conservative. He became leader of the opposition in 1911 and prime minister in October, 1922. He resigned shortly before his death in 1923.

Why don't the Chinese move back inland instead of staying in such crowded conditions on the coast?

Due to deforestation the soil of China has become so poor that it is almost impossible to get a living out of it in the interior. Then the transportation facilities are so primitive that they are inadequate to carry people and food to the interior in sufficient quantities to encourage settling inland. It remains to be seen whether science can devise improved agricultural methods and transportation facilities which would enable China to support its rapidly increasing population.

Authority Discusses Cancer

Dr. Joseph Colt Bloodgood, professor of clinical surgery, Johns Hopkins university, famous surgeon and international authority on cancer, will be the guest speaker for the Lawrence County Medical society, June 13th at the New Castle Field Club.

Dr. Bloodgood has written a series of articles for the press on cancer, the first of which follows and one will appear in these columns each day for five days.

ARTICLE V Cancer of the Large Bowel or Intestine.

The great anatomist, Leidy, of the University of Pennsylvania, remarked that he would not pass a dental student in anatomy who did not know something about his insides. Not that it was necessary for a doctor of dentistry to have this knowledge for the care of the teeth, but everyone should know something about the stomach and intestines and their function.

We have no explanation why cancer of the small intestine is much less frequent than cancer of the large intestine, and why ulcer of the duodenum is very common and why cancer of this portion of the intestines is very rare. Just as in cancer of the stomach, so in cancer of the intestine, there are no specific symptoms. But whether your trouble is due to cancer or not, you will be distinctly and amply warned. The symptoms may be indigestion like in trouble in the stomach, or the colicky pains exactly like those you had after eating green apples when younger. There may be constipation or diarrhoea, or there may be a more distinct warning like blood in the stools. None of these symptoms necessarily mean cancer.

School Cost Is Low Compared To Taxes In State

National Educational Association Completes Analysis Of School Costs

SEVEN OTHER STATES HAVE LOWER FIGURE

Only Fourth Of Taxes Collected In Pennsylvania Spent On Schools

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.—The cost of public, elementary, secondary and higher education in Pennsylvania is only approximately one-quarter as large as the amount of taxes collected from the people of the state by federal, state and local governments, the National Education Association finds in an analysis of education costs and tax collection figures.

Only seven other states report education expenditures smaller in comparison with tax collections than the Keystone state, according to the association's study.

Using the year of 1923 as the basis of its analysis, the Education Association found that the costs of education in Pennsylvania totaled $188,023,939 in that year as against $728,122,568 collected within the state as taxes by the federal, state and local governments. A comparison of these figures revealed that the education cost was just 25.82 per cent as large as tax collections.

The cost of education in the country as a whole is 26.4 per cent as large as tax receipts, according to the report made by the association.

Report American Missionary Taken By Chinese Bandits

(International News Service)
LONDON, June 9.—Clifford King, American missionary member of the Mission society of the divine word, was reported to have been captured by bandits in the southern part of Honan province in messages received here today from Peking.

The messages gave no details about the kidnapping.

All you can say for some cause that claim the support of Heaven is that they might do better to let Heaven handle the job alone.

Correct this sentence: "I don't care what your mother says," growled the man; "I say you can't go and that means you aren't going."

Ex-Sheriff Bell Receives News Of Son-In-Law's Death

Forced To Cut Short Visit Here Because Of Sudden Death Of Relative

S. W. BELL

All the pleasure with which Ex-Sheriff Samuel W. Bell of San Diego, Calif., had been looking forward to at the great G. A. R. encampment which opened here today, has been dimmed by a sad message he received Sunday morning, telling of the sudden death in Los Angeles of his son-in-law, James McCracken.

Mr. Bell's daughter, Mrs. McCracken, is not in the best of health and he has been forced to cancel all his plans here, and will return at once to California as soon as arrangements can be made for the air trip back.

Mr. McCracken was a former resident of Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh Man Here For Sons' Encampment To Speak On "Our Flag"

John E. Sautter, of Pittsburgh, past commander-in-chief of the Sons of Union Veterans of the civil war will speak to New Castle Kiwanians at their regular luncheon-meeting at the Elks club on Wednesday, June 11. Mr. Sautter is in attendance upon the annual state encampment of the organization in session here this week.

His subject will be "Our Flag."

Vare says his stolen Senate seat has been returned. That should keep Mr. Davis from getting the titles mixed.

Girl Bandit Lures Salesman Into Car Where He's Robbed

GREENSBURG, June 9.—R. J. Thompson, Cincinnati, O., salesman, is "discouraged about obeying kind impulses in the future." Today Thompson mourns the loss of $532 in cash which was stolen from him yesterday morning on the Lincoln highway, two miles east of this city. Thompson stopped his car in response to a signal from a young woman who asked him to start her car for her.

Thompson entered the car, discovered a man hiding in the back seat, and felt a gun poking into his back. In response to a stern demand to hand it over, Thompson parted with his wallet.

State police today reported no arrests of the girl bandit and of her male companion, who made their getaway after they returned the salesman $2 "to buy enough gas to get home."

Six Are Injured In Crash On Curve

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 9.—Six persons were hurt, three seriously, when an automobile failed to negotiate a curve on the highway at Gillespie near Fayette City, just before midnight. Two men and a woman were not seriously enough hurt to be taken to a hospital, but three members of the party are in the Uniontown hospital.

The list of seriously injured follows: Frank Crow, aged 22, of Puritan, probable fractured pelvis; Leta Yager, 18, of Cool Spring, fractured ribs; Essie Williams, 24, Lemont, fractured ribs. Raymond Hostetler is said to have been the owner of the machine.

Pound After Pound For Thin Children

That's What Local Druggists' Guaranteed Offer Means To Anxious Mothers

Look at your thin, scrawny, underweight child and think what a few pounds of solid flesh would do for his health and appearance.

Picture that pitiful little figure suddenly changing into a sturdy, manly, well-rounded one. Then rejoice at the wonderful scientific discovery which makes possible such a fine, big gain in weight.

McKee's, Eckerd's, Love & Megown can tell you all about this amazing weight builder—McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets, which recently added 10 pounds of healthy flesh to a New Jersey boy's weight.

They supply the needed, easily digested form of those flesh-producing vitamins that McCoy's chemists have learned to extract by an amazing process from pure Norwegian cod liver oil. McCoy's contain no harmful drugs, and the weight-increasing elements they supply are simply sufficient for any underweight man, woman or child.

Read this ironclad guarantee—McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets must give any underweight man, woman or child the desired increase in weight or money refunded. Just ask for McCoy's at McKee's, Eckerd's, Love & Megown or any drug store—60 tablets 60 cents.

Reformed Church To Build School

Will Erect Institution For Orphan Children Under Supervision Of Township

MERCER, Pa., June 9.—The only school building project of record for the coming summer is that at St. Paul's Reformed church maintained by the Reformed church.

By virtue of an agreement between the school board of West Salem township and the officials of the St. Paul's home, the school children of the orphanage are taken under the wing of the school district of West Salem.

The officials of the institution are now erecting this building which they will pay for, but which will be under the supervision of the township school board.

LIQUOR HARD TO GET

Under-cover men working in Mercer county report that the buying of a drink is getting to a point where it can be called an achievement.

The strict enforcement of the liquor law on the part of the district attorney accounts for this condition.

INSPECT BRIDGES

Inspection of the 550 bridges in Mercer county that are owned by the county has started.

County Commissioner Harry Hunter and County Engineer F. P. Graham are making the inspection trip that will result in the selection of bridges that the county will paint this summer and fall. The officials are of the opinion that 300 of the number are in need of paint and as near that total as it is possible to go will be painted.

Contracts on the painting will be asked by the commissioners who will put the bridges to bid on their return from the inspection tour will consume several weeks in time.

The commissioners are awaiting the convening of the June Grand Jury on June 16th to put up to them the repair of several county bridges that are reported to be in bad condition.

FEW IN JAIL

If operating a jail in the summer time in Mercer county was a commercial pursuit the sheriff would be in hard luck.

Following a fall, winter and spring of the most prosperous business at the jail house the summer total has dropped to 60 and refuses to go any higher.

Sheriff Dan Callahan, who is a hospitable soul and always insisting on the court sending them down to him to keep down the workhouse bill, is lonesome.

After you have handled on an average of 100 men and women all the time for three years and then have it cut in two it is hard to accustom yourself to the change.

2500 FISHERS LICENSED
Fishing licenses have now reached a total of 2500.

This number will almost double itself once the game fishing season comes in which is scheduled for the date of July 1st.

DOCTORS TO MEET
The Mercer County Medical Society

will hold their monthly meeting June 13th at Fredonia.

The society is planning to hold a joint meeting with the Venango county society in July.

The two will convene at Stoneboro.

Ellwood Wins From Aliquippa

Tubers Win Close Game On Saturday Afternoon
Score 2-1

ELLWOOD CITY, June 9.—Ellwood City's baseball club hit their winning stride on Saturday afternoon when Aliquippa came here and tasted a 2 to 1 defeat in a close and interesting battle.

Fitzgerald's home run was the big feature of the day as his circuit drive and a tally by Volpe chalked up the two runs made by the locals while Beggs was only responsible for the only tally scored by the enemy.

Neither aggregation was able to hit the ball very often as Mundo allowed only three scattered hits and Carrigan hurled almost to Mundo's equal as he let the Tubers collect only five hits. P. Sanders, Mundo and Irwin each collected a single and Fitzgerald was good for a single besides his circuit drive. Murphy did his share for the losers by being credited with two singles and Beggs a double.

Perhaps the Riscovic machine will improve now that two contests a week will be played as the first twilight event takes place Wednesday night at the Ewing Park grounds and Rochester is to be the attraction. This will inaugurate the twilight season in the Beaver County league and games will be played on Wednesday nights and the other tilt during the week will be played on Saturday afternoon.

A lack of hurlers seems to be Ellwood's greatest handicap as Mundo up until the present time is the only pitcher that is performing well. It is hoped that Boyle and Lauderback will get into form for the coming contests.

KOPPEL

GETS ZEPPELIN CARD

Oscar Phillips, expert Sales manager of the Koppel Industrial Car and Equipment Company, at Koppel, received a picture Post-card bearing on its reverse side a business communication from La Paz, Bolivia, South America.

This card was brought to Lakehurst on the Graf Zeppelin and is probably the first communication to be received by a local person, that was carried on the Graf Zeppelin from the Southern Continent. It bore Bolivia stamps to the equivalent of 30 cents in U. S. money.

FIRE ALARM

The Koppel volunteer Fire Department answered an alarm Friday afternoon on Mount street.

A small one story frame building owned by Mr. Charles Mount was badly damaged the inside of the house was almost completely ruined, a few articles were saved, the fire is thought to be caused by an electric wire.

Caroline Perille, a student at the Medical University of St. Louis, returned home for the summer vacation.

CANADA BOTTLES UP RUM FLOW

Scenes like this are expected to become memories of the past, along the Detroit river, since Canada has passed a bill prohibiting the export of alcoholic beverages to countries in which it is illegal to sell wet goods. Photos show, top, partly loaded boats tied up at liquor docks, on the Canadian side, just across from Detroit, waiting a chance to make a break for the American shore. These docks now are closed and guards have been stationed at breweries and distilleries to see that no consignments leave without proper clearance papers; below, bootlegging autos waiting to receive the cargoes, in the old days, when thousands of cases were brought across the river every few hours.

SAFETY SAM Keep your tail-light a burnin'

When out drivin' after dark, An' in congested districts, Be careful where you park. Don't park too near a corner Or too near a water plug. For when you stop, th' traffic cop Might put you in th' jug.

Still, the people in some other town would seem just as narrow minded if you behaved the same way.

Giants Capture Eight Straight

Giants Showing Way In National League With Excellent Pitching Arrangement

INDIANS NOSE OUT SENATORS

By HENRY McLEMORE
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, June 9.—In this age of lusty baseball—baseball so lusty sympathetic managers pin crepe on a pitcher's sleeve before condemning him to the box—it comes as a relief to rear of a team which can win eight straight games with nine pitchers.

That is the record of the up-and-coming Giants today as a result of their 4 to 1 win over the crumbling Cards yesterday. Bill Walker did the flinging for the New Yorkers, allowing but two hits. Denver Bill would have had a shutout but for Jackson's error in the seventh.

Across the river old Adolph Laque did some fine and fancy flinging to limit the Cubs to four hits as the Robins won 4 to 0. It was Adolph's sixth straight and placed the Robins three full games out in front.

Philadelphia and Cincinnati split a double-header, the Reds taking the opener, 5 to 4, while the Phillies came through 9 to 2 in the second. Heilmann's home run provided the Reds with their winning margin in the first game.

Berger Hits 17th.

Wally Berger hit his 17th homer of the season as the Braves whipped the Pirates, 10-6. The Braves ran wild in the second inning to score eight. Pittsburgh had a big time in the seventh when they rapped Seibold for six hits and the same number of runs.

The Athletics turned back the White Sox 6-3. The A's did most of their damage in the fifth when they scored four runs on two doubles and a triple followed by Fox's home run.

Pipgras, after pitching brilliantly for seven innings, blew up in the eighth and the Browns scored five runs to whip the Yankees, 5-4. Up until the time of his ascension, Pipgras had allowed but four hits and seemed to be on his way to an easy victory.

Wes Ferrell hung up his ninth win as the Indians nosed out Washington 3-2. He also singled in the winning run in the ninth.

Waite Hoyt marked his debut as a Tiger by hurling the bengals to a 1 to 0 win over Boston. The former Yankee allowed but four hits to best Ed Morris in a hurling duel.

Goldstein-Andrucci Battle Here Tonight

Rival Lightweights To Settle Supremacy Question In 10-Round Bout At Bowl; Ward Battles Dempsey; New Officials May Handle Contests; First Bout Starts At 9 P. M. Fast Time.

Fistic folk in search of ring thrills will travel tonight to Jolly bowl to see two bitter rivals, Phil Goldstein and Andy Andrucci, lightweights, clash in a bout scheduled to go 10 rounds. They've dolled up physically for the encounter and as each yearns to be recognized as the best lightweight in this section fans should see plenty of gloves swung.

Goldstein hails from one section of Pittsburgh, and Andrucci comes from another. They met several months ago and when the fighting was over and the official award was made Mr. Andrucci's boy Andy was called the winner. This was not to Phil's liking and since that time he has fought regularly, turned in several impressive fights and recently conquered Danny Delmont here.

As soon as he beat Delmont, Phil issued a challenge to Andrucci who remarked that he would be pleased to give Goldstein a second "shellacking" and promptly signed the articles. He believes, according to his manager, Jim Buchanan, that Goldstein is built to order. Jimmy Dunn, a wise man in the ways of fistiana has been drilling Goldstein and said in reply Buchanan has a think coming.

So tonight the rivals will settle the question of supremacy in a neutral ring.

AHEM! HERE'S WARD AND DEMPSEY AGAIN

Nothing could be more pleasing to the fistic eye than the fighting that has been displayed here by Bobby Dempsey of Ambridge and Jackie Ward of Cleveland, bantamweights. They're doctored for the six round semi-final and this tilt has the fans agog. Some of them are singing the praises of Dempsey and other shouting for Ward. They'll cuff each other around for six rounds unless there is a kayo.

Mike Lucas of Cleveland hasn't been here since he swapped blows with Jimmie Belmont but he'll be among those on display when Roger Shea, Cleveland, enters the ring.

Just who Ward Parchman is, no one knows, but they say that he is a dark-hued glove-tosser who has been wanting to fight Warren Farrow for some months and now that the heavyweights have been matched the fans may see one or the other dropper before the six rounds have been staged.

MAY HAVE NEW OFFICIALS HERE

Havey J. Boyle, commissioner of boxing, has approved the application of Tommy Jones as a referee and it is possible he will alternate with George Chip tonight. Larry Gent, the deputy commissioner will probably name several new judges when he arrives today as several local men have signified their desire of voting winners and losers.

The first bout will start promptly at nine o'clock p. m. daylight savings time. Doors open at eight p. m.

Savanah To Play Cen. Christians

The Savannah M. E. church baseball team plays the Central Christians at Savannah on Tuesday night at 8:15 o'clock. All players are asked to be present at the appointed hour. A big crowd will no doubt view this game.

It will be the second game for the Savannah boys. They dropped the first game of the season to the South Hill team. Managers wanting games with the Savannah team can call 9180 and ask for Chester Waddington.

Mrs. J. B. Matthews Wins Ladies Event

Mrs. M. A. McLure Also Wins In Nine Hole Event At Field Club

In the ladies matched play against par at the New Castle Field Club course last week, Mrs. J. B. Matthews won with a score of 7 up on par. Mrs. W. W. Horner with 6 up on par and Miss Edna Wilson with a score of 6 up on par were tied for second honors.

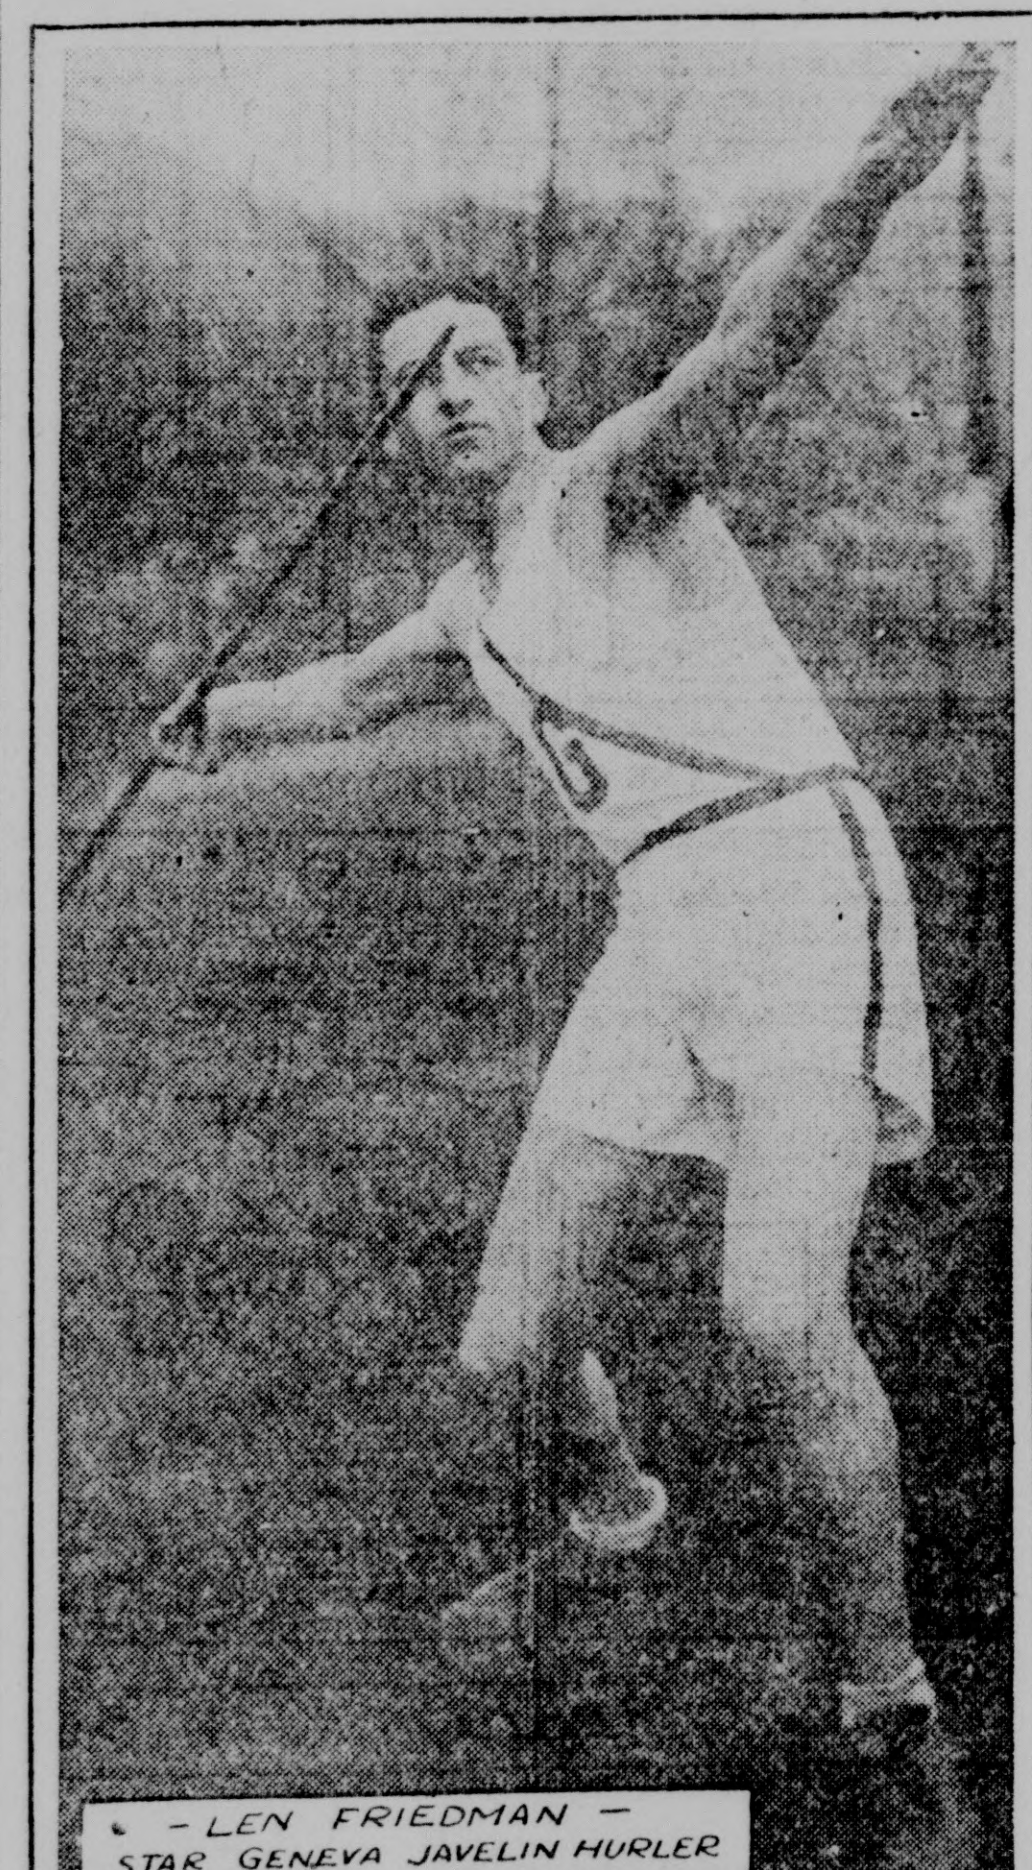

Mrs. M. A. McLure turned in a low gross score in a nine hole match at the course, her score being 62, while Mrs. P. A. Shoaf was second with a gross score of 67.

Two Games In Church League

Two games are on tap tonight in the New Castle Church League. The Central Presbyterians meet the Congregationalists at the Clifton Flats field with Jones the umpire. The Third U. P. team goes to bat with the First Baptists at Frank Avenue with Black the official.

What this country needs is a little more sameness among those who are found out and those who are kicked out.

Wins Second Place

— LEN FRIEDMAN —
STAR GENEVA JAVELIN HURLER

Leonard "Len" Friedman, New Castle boy, and a senior at Geneva College, javelin throwing star, won for himself second place in the National Collegiate A. A. meet held at Staeg Field in Chicago on Saturday. Kenneth Churchill of California was first with a heave of 204 feet 2 1/2 inches. Friedman threw the wand 201 feet 10 1/2 inches. Mortenson of Southern California was third with a heave of 201 feet 5 1/2 inches. Weldon of Illinois was fourth with a throw of 193 feet.

Friedman's second place gave Geneva 8 points in the meet. The local boy's javelin throwing this year has been short of sensational, he was the winner of the Penn Relays at Philadelphia, winner of the Ohio State Relays javelin throw, and Saturday took a second with the cream of the nation's collegiate javelin throwers present. Friedman graduates at Geneva this year and the Covenantors lose a sure point getter in track and also a fine basketball player. Friedman started his javelin throwing career in High school here, and his first heave of any note was made at New Wilmington.

New Castle is proud to have a boy who stands second best in the entire country in javelin competition. He is the first New Castle boy to ever win a place at the National Collegiate event in Chicago. He is the son of Mrs. Samuel P. Friedman of Leasure avenue.

Boston Braves Defeat Pirates

Errors Behind French Help Braves To Chalk Up 10 To 6 Win

BOSTON, June 8.—The Braves used their tomahawks with effect yesterday and chopped out a 10-6 victory over the Pirates. Two costly errors behind Larry French helped the Braves to secure the victory. After the first explosion French left, Chagnon took his place and a couple of more Boston tallies crossed the platter. The box score:

New Castle Runner Is Sixth In Big Marathon At National Capital

By ARTHUR C. WIMER

(Special to The News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.—Running the course in a torrid day typical of Washington's hot and sultry summers, Frank Jerry of New Castle, representing the Pennsylvania Railroad Athletic Club, finished sixth in the national fifteen mile marathon here Saturday afternoon.

Promptly at two o'clock the starter's pistol sent 48 crack distance runners off on the fifteen mile grind, and one hour and thirty-three minutes later the New Castle entry crossed the finish line, finishing sixth of the contestants coming from all parts of the country and bearing national reputations.

Bill Agee of Baltimore, last year's champion of the marathon, raced across the finish line one hour and twenty-six and one-fifth minutes after he had started, again a winner by a goodly margin. From the first it was Agee's race, for he showed class that could not be equaled by the other runners.

Seven minutes after Agee had won first honors, New Castle's entry trotted to the finish, perspiring and spent but with sufficient energy left to regret that he hadn't placed higher. Jerry said that he felt he should have done better but that he had weakened and had been unable to overtake any more runners.

He finished gamely and was given a round of applause by the spectators who crowded the ropes. The race started immediately in back of the White House on what is known as the Elipse, a circular driveway skirting the park adjoining the Executive Mansions. The runners circled the Elipse, four times, then followed the roadway to the Potomac Tidal Basin, thence along the river to Hains Point, back to the starting point and over the same circuit again. Jerry took it easy at the start and was seventeenth at the end of the first round of the Elipse. On the second round he crept up to 12th place, on the third round up to ninth place and was in eighth position when the fourth round was completed and the runners left the Elipse for the river course.

At the end of the first five-eighths of the race, the New Castle man was running in seventh position. Before the runners reached the finish line he had overtaken another contestant to finish sixth, one and one-fifth minute behind the fifth place winner, A. Maack of Brooklyn, New York. In the face of the field of national repute, Jerry ran a great race in defeating forty-two other contestants.

Washington was interested in the national championship fight and a large number of spectators was on hand at the beginning and finish of the race. Motorcycle policemen kept the roadways clear and escorted each runner to the finish line.

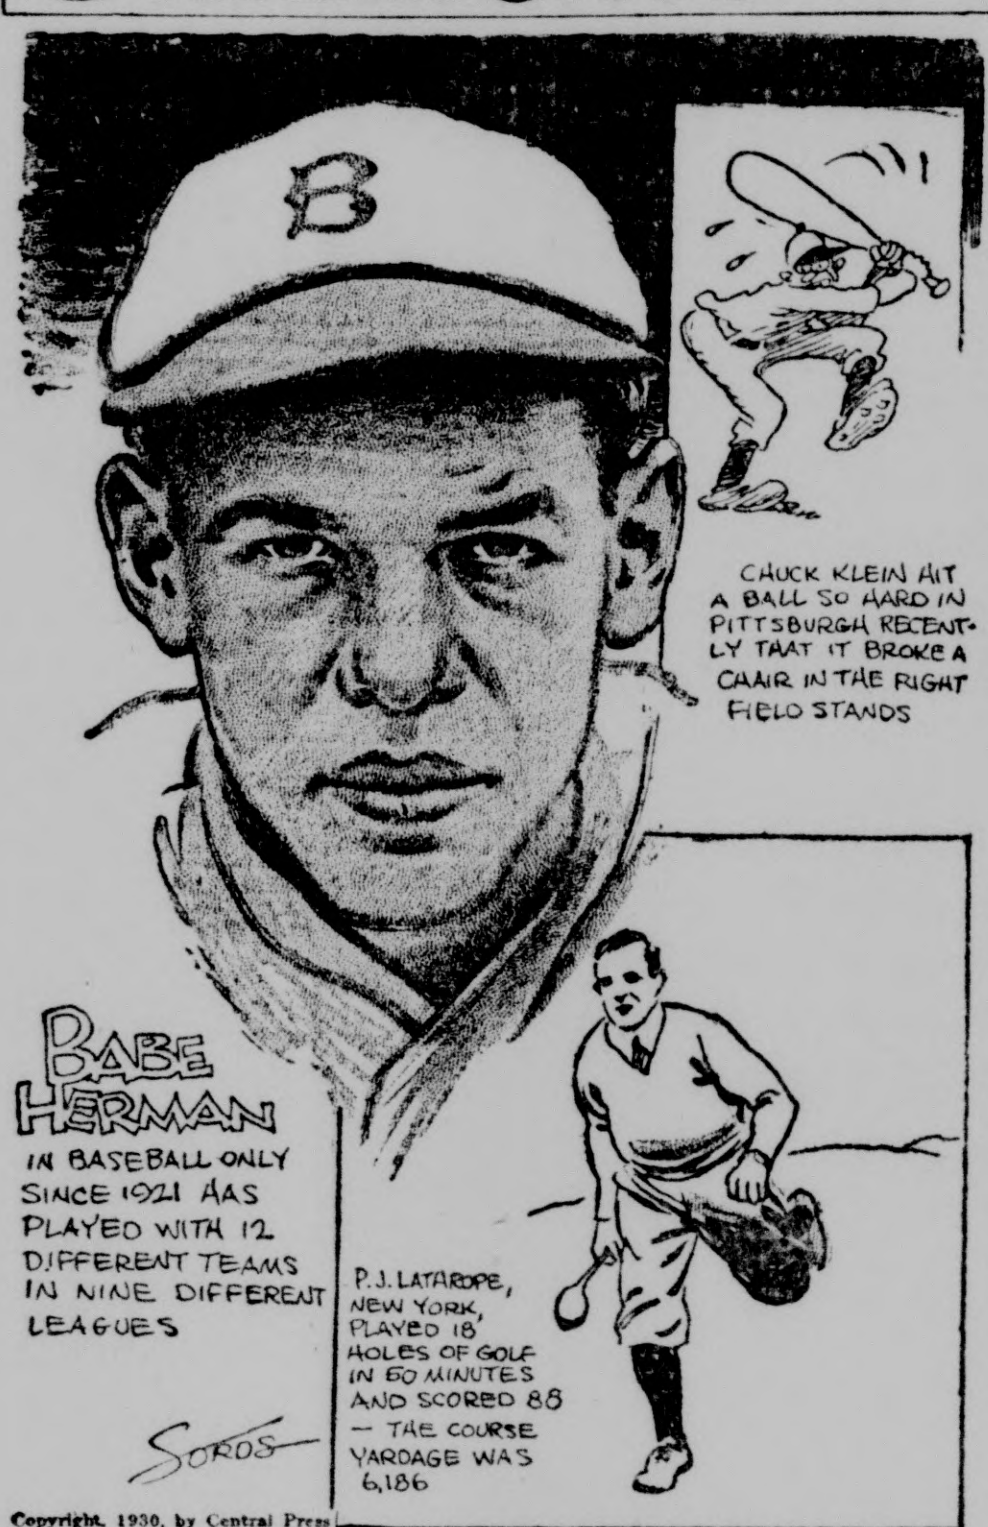

Major William C. Rhodes, vice president of the American Olympic committee, acted as starter and John D. O'Reilly, veteran Georgetown University track coach, was referee.

MUSHBALL LEAGUE

Tonight the Industrial League will play another set of games. The league leading Lehigh Cement team tackles the News All-Stars at Washington Field. The Radiator Works will play the Penn-Ohio Electric at Carnegie Field. The Bell Telephones meet the Engineering Works at the Radiator Field. The Lockey Machine oppose the Shenango Tin at Lehigh Field.

There is to a meeting of the Mushball league managers on Wednesday night of this week. The meeting place will be the P. & O. Building in the office occupied by Mr. Beard on the third floor. It is asked that all managers make it a point to be present.

The mushball game in the Industrial league scheduled for May 29, between the Lockey Machine shop and the Engineering Works resulted in a misunderstanding on the playing field. One team appeared at the Carnegie field and the other team appeared at the Shenango Tin Mill field. The game was declared a victory for the Lockeys in the standing, but this was in error and the game must be played over. Howard Reed of the Lockey team is asked to get in touch with President Walther at the News office at once. The revised standing of the league would be as follows: Lockey Machines won 5 and lost 2, and the Engineering Works win none and lose 6.

Police Captain Is Victim Of Attack

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 9.—Police of Wilmerding, a suburb, today were prepared to prefer charges against two men who were wounded in an alleged attack on Police Captain Richard Butler.

The shooting occurred, according to police, when Thad Robinson, 35, and Joseph Clark, 32, tussled with Butler when he went to the Robinson home to serve warrants following a crash between a car in which the two were riding and a police machine. Clark was shot above the right eye and in the leg and Robinson suffered a bullet wound in the right leg during the struggle.

Alleged Headless Murderer Goes On Trial For His Life

Philip Fazio, Clairton, Will Go On Trial Today For Murder Of William Gregory

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 9.—As a sequel to the murder and mutilation of William J. Gregory, youthful beer runner who was alleged to have "double-cross" his employer, Philip Fazio, of Clairton, was to go on trial for his life here today.

Gregory's decapitated body was found, crammed in a produce barrel, in Penn Township on April 1 last. Police believe he was murdered the day before.

The State, it was believed, would endeavor to establish a motive for the slaying by introducing evidence designed to show that Gregory double-crossed the "syndicate" for which he was working by selling a truck and its load of beer.

It was also believed that Gregory was attempting to extort money from the syndicate, alleged to have been headed by Fazio, by threatening to expose the syndicate to federal officers.

Racing Mechanic Killed In Detroit

Driver Of "Death Car" Is Seriously Injured When Qualifying Car Wrecks

(International News Service)
DETROIT, June 9.—William Barry, 20-year-old mechanic, is dead and George D. McKenzie, auto racing driver, and the son of a Philadelphia doctor, is in a local hospital today as the result of an accident which marred the qualifying heats of Detroit's 100-mile speedway classic here yesterday afternoon. The race itself was later postponed because of a heavy rain.

Fully 15,000 persons watched Barry ride to his death. McKenzie, driver of the "death car," was seriously injured when, according to witnesses, he lost control of the machine, which then crashed through a wire fence at a curve and rolled down an incline. Both men were pinned beneath the wreckage.

Just as the qualifiers were lined up, a thunder storm broke, forcing postponement and drenching 10,000 of the spectators who were not sheltered by the grandstand. The race will either be contested this evening shortly before dusk or postponed until some time in July. Many of the racers are scheduled to report at Altoona, Pa., for the annual classic there Saturday afternoon.

Billy Arnold, who won the 500-mile Indianapolis Memorial Day race, is one of the favorites at the dirt track here. Eugene Huestein of Detroit, won the preliminary race yesterday, driving the 25 miles in 19 minutes and 53 seconds.

Warn Congress About Deficit

Administration Leaders Filled With Fear As Pension
Bills Get Passage

RANKIN BILL TO RECEIVE PASSAGE

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
WASHINGTON, June 9.—Readiness of congress to boost pension rates and world war veterans' compensation allowances has filled the administration with new fears of a treasury deficit.
Having already passed bills raising pension rates for both Spanish-American war and Civil war veterans and widows, congress is now engaged in an "under cover" fight over bills which may increase World war compensation cost from $100,000,000 to $300,- 000,000 a year.

Warnings Issued.
Warnings have already been issued that passage of the Rankin bill for World war veterans would cause a deficit. The house ignored the warning of Rep. Wood (R) of Indiana, chairman of the appropriations committee, and backed the bill in the senate claim enough votes to pass it.
Congress has hewed closely to the budget line this session except for pension bills, according to administration leaders. With the campaign ahead, the pressure for pension bills has been stronger than it has for years, they say.

The Spanish-American war pension bill, passed over presidential veto, boosts pension costs $4,500,000 a year.
The Civil war bill, which has passed both houses, is estimated to cost $14,- 364,000 a year.

A half dozen plans to liberalize the World war veterans compensation act are now pending in the senate. The administration contemplated a bill that would cost from $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 a year, but was ignored.

Suggests Substitute.
The bill of Rep. Rankin (D) of Mississippi, which passed the house, has the backing of veterans' organizations.
It is estimated by its author to cost but $40,000,000 a year, while others have claimed the cost would be as high as $300,000,000.

Rep. Knutson (R) of Minnesota, chairman of the house pensions committee, today proposed a substitute plan, adopting the pension system for World war veterans.

In a letter to Sen. Smoot (R) of Utah, chairman of the senate finance committee, Knutson said:

"It is safe to say we have squandered hundreds of millions of dollars in the administration of the World war veterans act, much of it is rehabilitation that was ineffective."

Favors Quick Bill.
Assailing the Rankin bill, Knutson said:

"No one knows what it is going to cost. It is my judgment that it will exceed $300,000,000 a year, if passed in its present form, but that will not take care of those who have become disabled since being discharged from the army, nor the widows and orphans of those who have died from disabilities not service connected. That will have to be taken care of at a subsequent date at an increase of anywhere from $30,000,000 to $40,000,000."

Knutson advocates a bill of Rep.
Swick (R) of Pennsylvania, providing pensions for disability, ranging from $10 to $50 a month.

Rev. William Hodge Will Preach Special Sermons This Week

Due to the very unusual evangelistic trend in the services of Bethel A.
M. E. church yesterday, as the pastor discussed on the descent of the Holy Ghost, it was unanimously decided that this week the pastor should follow up his Sunday message, and in accordance therewith, beginning this evening at 8 o'clock, daylight savings time, the pastor will deliver five sermons on the work and purpose of the Holy Spirit. There will be spirited song services each night.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things around New Castle

Not often is it necessary to put out the "Standing Room Only" sign for a religious service, particularly an evening service but they were in that shape Sunday night at the cathedral.
Then they took in the S. R. O. sign for they couldn't get any more in without bulging out the walls. The auditorium holds 3500, the stage held about 200 more, and hundreds were standing, but nearly 1000 more tried to get in. These went to the Highland United Presbyterian church where an overflow meeting was held.

The streets for blocks around the cathedral were jammed with cars.
North, east, south and west they were lined up, and if you lived within a mile of the cathedral you were better off to walk down.

One chap I know managed to squeeze his way into the building and finally managed to get standing room in the back. As the usher came down to take up the collection he whispered to the standee, "there's a seat down front". He got himself the seat in the third row and said after the meeting "I would have given a dollar for a seat, but they gave me a front seat and missed me on the collection."

It was just about the greatest religious service ever held in this part of the state and is something of an indication of the manner in which New Castle people observe religious days.

Tramp, tramp, tramp the boys are marching this week. But they don't have to march around the city if they would sooner ride. The G. A. R. lads are in, sprightly in spite of their over eighty years, and they intend to make a little whoopee this week at their annual affair.

The Sons of Veterans are in also and you can find most any county represented if you want to. Met an old friend last night, Mayor Samuel Horn of Easton, Pa. He may be mayor down in Easton but he's still Sam to his friends, and he has a load of them over the state.

Back in 1901 he was here before with the Sons of Veterans, but he was Division Commander that year. Then two years ago he was here as a delegate to the Third Class City convention. Easton is one of the most eastern cities of the state, being only a few steps from the state of New Jersey. A short bridge separates Easton, Pa. from Phillipsburg, N. J., and about 45 miles away is New York City.
Mayor Sam is probably the farthest eastern delegate to the farthest western encampment.

Saw the opening of Camp Milton Walton Sunday afternoon and he was certainly a gathering place for camps. When some of the old G. A.
R. men had their canteens in the Civil war the canteen meant a place to get a scuttle of suds. Now its just a place for a soft drink or a piece of candy.

Col. Edwin John Pittie, commanding Camp Milton Walton is highly pleased with it. "The layout is wonderful" said he, "and I want to congratulate New Castle for the fine spirit of co-operation manifest thus far. Everybody wants to do something to help and it is most pleasing to us to see this splendid spirit in evidence. The camp site leaves nothing to be desired."

But there is still one question puzzling me. Why isn't Corporal Harry K. Bell, Company K, out there doing his trick on guard duty?

Assault And Battery Cases Being Heard

The case of the commonwealth against Frank and Sophie Kowewski, charged with assault and battery and Joe, Josephine and Michael Ludwiczak, also charged with assault and battery, was taken up before Judge R. Lawrence Hildebrand at court this morning. This is a case of cross suits growing out of a row between the families, who are neighbors on Charles street.

FOSSILS NOT ALWAYS WHAT THEY SEEM TO BE

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, June 9.—In hunting fossils, as in other forms of prospecting, things are not always what they seem, according to Henry W. Nichols, associate curator of geology at the Field Museum of Natural History.

Nichols declared that many specimens brought to the museum by their discoverers in the belief that they are fossils are not fossil at all, but accidental imitative forms known as simulacra. Some of these, he says, are interesting in themselves.

"Water worn pebbles are often mistaken for fossil eggs, and many supposed fossils of a great variety of objects ranging to axes and even to human of this nature," states Nichols.
"The most curious example was a piece of water worn limestone which did have a superficial resemblance to the fossil baby monkey. It was thought to be."

"Pieces of slag found in outlying districts are often brought in on the assumption that they are meteorites.
The greater number of supposed fossils brought to the museum are concretions, or aggregations of minerals deposited from solution in many curious shapes, some of which in their general outlines resemble many familiar objects. One common kind of concretion is often mistaken for a horse's hoof. Others are brought in as petrified human arms, legs and feet. Still others are mistaken for tussocks or for bird's nests."

"On the other hand, actual fossils are often mistaken for petrification of quite a different character. Thus a long, thin shell was thought to be a fossil bird's beak. The fossil so-called "money comb" coral is often taken to be a petrified honeycomb and the long jointed shell of a fossil mollusk is thought to be a petrified backbone.

"Some of these specimens prove to be of more interest and value than they would be if they were actually what they were mistaken for. A supposed fossil hoof, for instance, proved on examination, to be a hitherto unknown species of fossil clam."

Find Flags Are Improperly Hung

Many Residents Of City No
Conforming To General
Rules Of Flag Etiquette

Attention of New Castle residents is called to the fact that many people who are displaying flags as a courtesy to the men of the G. A. R. and their affiliated organization during the convention here are not conforming to the general rules of flag etiquette by Recruiting Sergeant J. W. Thompson.

A resume of the principal rules of flag etiquette were published several days ago by The News, but will again be outlined for the benefit of those who are not correctly displaying Old Glory, tomorrow.

The Russians may like sad literature, but they don't portray assault accidents and injustice in comic strips.
